Terrific Tigers Picture Perfect in Gridiron Season Finale

Falcons Fall Before 35-0 CHS Onslaught

Rain, Sea of Mud Fail To Halt Roundtowners; Champs Praised by All

By STEVE JONES
A great Circleville High School football team roared to a perfect climax for a perfect season last night with a 35-0 rain-soaked victory over Franklin Heights on a gridiron that was a sea of mud.

The Tigers scored the first four times they had possession of the ball. An amazing feat in itself, considering the conditions under which the game was played.

By mutual agreement of the coaches the game was shortened. The final two periods were eight minutes each and the clock was kept running except during timeouts.

Rain fell constantly throughout the game. Water stood in puddles all over the field. The players were covered with mud from the first kickoff until the final gun.

GAROLD DADE, the Red and Black's senior halfback, paced the win. The brilliant runner scored on touchdown runs of 46, 40 and one yard.

The first two times he carried the ball he broke loose on amazing scoring jaunts. He also scored the extra points on a pass from Dave Hannahs following the first six-pointer.

Other Tiger tallies were by Freddie Moore and Duke Fyffe. Fyffe scored one two-point conversion and Ray Taylor booted an extra point.

The Franklin Heights gridders could not hold on to the slippery pigskin. They fumbled 11 times, and the Tigers recovered four of them.

The Roundtowners did an excellent job of ball handling, bobbling the ball only twice. It was a credit attributed to a fine coaching job.

The Tigers lost the toss of the coin and kicked off to open the game. Dan Green, Franklin Heights halfback, took the ball on his own 15 and returned to the 37-yard line.

IN THREE plays the Falcons gained one yard and fumbled twice. Charles Walters' punt went out of bounds on the Falcons own 49 yard line, and Circleville took over.

On the first two plays the Tigers gained only eight yards. On a key third down play the Tigers were offside.

Although they did not register a gain on the play the Falcon captain accepted the penalty rather than the down. With third and seven, Dade took the handoff from Hannahs, slithered through the grasp of two Franklin Heights defenders and slipped and slid through the mud for the first Circleville touchdown.

Three minutes and seven seconds had elapsed in the game. Hannahs passed to Dade for the conversion to give the Tigers an 8-0 lead.

On the ensuing kickoff, Franklin Heights was again forced to (Continued on Page 7)

Elyria Postal Clerk Accused of Theft

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—Adolph B. Sittiger Jr., 37, has been a clerk in the post office here for 16 years.

Two inspectors approached him Friday after he finished his shift. According to the inspectors, Sittiger ran into a park near the post office and they fired warning shots into the air trying to halt him.

He was arrested by police several blocks away and charged with delaying, detaining and opening letter mail. He asked a hearing and was released on $1,000 bond after appearing before U.S. Commissioner Herbert A. Horn in Cleveland.

A father of four, Sittiger came under surveillance after complaints money was disappearing from the mails.

Negro Hinted Pulling Out Of Ole Miss

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—University of Mississippi student James H. Meredith relaxed and conferred here today on a long weekend that has aroused reports he may withdraw from school.

The 29-year-old Negro, who entered the university during the bloody riots that took two lives five weeks ago, unexpectedly left the Oxford, Miss., campus Thursday, missing two examinations.

However, Meredith laughed off the reports that he might withdraw.

"I'll have to refer you back to whoever made those reports," he told reporters who greeted him on his arrival here. But he declined to say why the early departure.

In Washington, Deputy U.S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said Meredith's abrupt departure from Ole Miss was caused by a desire to ease the stress under which he has been during much of his stay there.

Meredith went into a long conference here with Negro Attorney A. W. Willis Jr., who frequently represents the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and who has advised Meredith during the Mississippi integration struggle.

More Special Education Classes To Be Sought

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A spokesman for the Ohio Department of Education says Supt. E. E. Holt will ask the State Board of Education Monday for an additional 223 classes in special education and 77 more in vocational training.

If these are approved, Ohio will have 2,082 special education classes and 1,113 in vocational training paid through the state funding program.

ently produced little in the past week.

The Soviet Union has balked over two U.S. demands—to pull its jet bombers out of Cuba and to allow on-site inspection of its missile bases.

Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro has virtually doomed hopes of moving the long-range bombers by insisting that they were given to his government by Moscow and that he intends to keep them.

Castro has refused from the beginning to permit on-site inspection by the Red Cross, the United Nations or any other agency.

Many delegates here believe the United States will quietly drop the question of first hand verification once it is convinced the missiles have been pulled out. But the United States insists long-range bombs are offensive weapons, and the Russians have sidestepped saying anything about moving out the bombers.

More than half of the 40-odd Soviet missiles are reported on their way back to Russia and the rest are due to be headed home by Monday night.

The United States, Russia and Cuba all agreed to the plan to let the Red Cross check Cuba-bound Soviet ships for arms. But diplomatic sources in Havana said Friday night that Cuba would refuse to let any of her own vessels submit to inspection.

California Dems Sued

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The chairman of the Los Angeles County Republican Central Committee is suing the Democratic State Central Committee for $500,000 in damages.

Julius A. Leatham charged in a suit filed Friday that the Democratic committee tried to embarrass him and destroy his professional reputation by making him a defendant in an earlier court action.

In the earlier action, the Democrats got a restraining order prohibiting further distribution of a campaign pamphlet called "California Dynasty of Communism." They said the pamphlet implied Gov. Edmund G. Brown and other Democratic candidates were "soft on communism."

The Democrats sought $500,000 in damages from Karl Prussion, author of the pamphlet, and several John Does.

Tank Battle Looms Between Chinese, India

Himalayan Plateau May Be Scene of Armored Conflict

NEW DELHI (AP)—Indian and Red Chinese tanks are reported poised on a bleak Himalayan plateau for an expected showdown battle over a strategic Indian airfield on the western end of the rugged Himalayan front.

India flew light tanks to the nearly three-mile high Chushul airstrip in Ladakh, informed sources reported, to counter a Communist tank-reinforced buildup across the disputed border at Rudok in Tibet.

Communist tanks were seen only a few miles from the airstrip, an Indian Defense Ministry spokesman said.

The airfield is the only one the Indians have in the area and is vital to their supply line.

Only sporadic shelling and rifle fire were reported Friday in the northeastern sector of the front line where the Chinese have paused after early advances that threatened the thickly populated Assam Plains.

Both sides have reinforced their positions in Ladakh in the last 11 days.

Indian outposts in the area were overrun by Communist tanks in the initial Chinese offensive Oct. 20 and the Chinese surged swiftly toward Chushul, gaining control of all but 500 square miles of the 15,000-square mile Ladakh area.

Chinese troops were reported armed with Soviet-made AK47 automatic rifles, which are roughly comparable to the U.S. Army's M14s.

Unlike the steep mountain terrain in most of Ladakh, the frontier between Chushul and Rudok is fairly flat and barren, making tank warfare possible.

In Washington, the Defense Department said the U.S. airlift of light military arms that began last Saturday should be completed by Monday.

Department officials said India had not submitted any requests for additional weapons, but authorities here said U.S. Brig. Gen. John E. Kelly was due from Washington over the weekend to discuss further aid.

Prime Minister Nehru told a meeting of civil servants the government has started making automatic weapons that should be available in large quantities by next month.

U.S. To Oust Coach's Wife

CENTRALIA, Wash. (AP)—The attractive young English wife of a basketball coach has been ordered to leave the country and it appeared today that only an act of Congress can keep the couple together here.

Mrs. Ronald Brown, 24, who came here on an exchange teacher visitor's visa in 1960, was told last week she would have to leave the country by Dec. 9.

She and her husband, who met while both were teaching at Centralia High School, expect a baby in January.

Immigration service officials in Seattle said Mrs. Brown can probably get her visa extended until after the baby is born. But the only way she can get a permanent visa is through Congress.

Severe Winter Ahead?

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohioans apparently are contemplating a more severe winter than last year. A major tire company reports sales of snow tires are running better than 25 per cent ahead of 1961.

DuPont Announces Plans for New Experimental Unit

The Du Pont Co., will build an experimental unit at its Circleville plant for development work on a film which it is hoped may have extensive high temperature applications, it was announced today by Richard E. Heckert, plant manager.

Construction will begin in the near future. The unit is scheduled for completion in the spring of 1964.

Besides its work on product and process development, the new facility will produce samples of the film for market development.

It is anticipated that the unit will employ about 50 persons. It has been designed and will be constructed by the Du Pont Company's Engineering Department. About 100 construction employees will be required at peak of building activity.

THE experimental facility will be housed in a single story building covering about 12,000 square feet. It will adjoin the manufacturing unit for "Teflon" FEP film now under construction.

Announcement of the "Teflon" FEP film unit was made here Sept. 19. This facility will provide about 20 operating jobs, according to the company.

Ford Rotunda Loss Set at $15 Million

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP)—The Ford Rotunda — a famous landmark in the Detroit area for 26 years — was a mass of twisted steel and stone rubble today.

A flash fire broke out on the 110-foot high dome at 1:15 p.m. Friday. It spread downward into the interior and intense heat soon caused the eight-story structure to collapse.

The loss was estimated at between $15 and $16 million.

Ford Motor Co. made no immediate decision on whether to rebuild one of the nation's most visited tourist attractions.

The company's president, John Dykstra, said, "we are all greatly saddened by the loss of the Rotunda. To Detroiters and to millions of visitors it was a symbol of the automotive industry and Ford's role in the industry."

"We are especially distressed that we will have to disappoint the thousands of children who visit us every season to see our Christmas fantasy."

"Our only consolation is that no one was seriously hurt." Included in the loss was $250,000 in Christmas decorations to be used for the annual Christmas fantasy; 12 new cars, and one new tractor.

Stork Wins Race With Police Car

CLEVELAND (AP)—The stork and a Bedford Heights police car raced at 70 miles an hour Friday night, and the stork won.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Hannan of Glenwillow in the police car less than a mile from Brentwood Hospital.

Patrolman William Palumbo, 30, leaned over the back of the front seat to deliver the baby while Sgt. Robert C. Tucker, 31, drove. The Hannans had gone to the police station seeking help in getting to St. Luke's Hospital. Afterward, mother and baby were reported doing fine at Brentwood Hospital.

Soviet Technicians Pulling Out; but U.S. Maintains Blockade

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than half the 40-odd Soviet missiles secretly installed in Cuba are reported on their way back to Russia. The rest are due to be needed home by Monday night.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev is also understood to be pulling out several thousand military technicians assigned to the Cuban rocket bases.

But there were indications the end of the U.S. blockade may not be soon.

Khrushchev's cleanup of the known missile sites—and at an unexpected speed—coincides with the apparent end of Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan's mission to Havana.

U.S. officials now take it Mikoyan has failed in any effort he may have made to pressure Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro into accepting international inspection to verify removal of the missiles and dismantling of the bases.

In Havana, Mikoyan was reported to have conferred again Friday night with Castro after having spent Thursday touring collective farms with him. But Washington officials believe Mikoyan may leave this weekend.

So far as President Kennedy is concerned, officials said, this assumed failure of Mikoyan means Khrushchev will not live up to that part of his Cuban crisis agreement that called for international (Continued on Page 10)

Tank Battle Looms Between Chinese, India

Himalayan Plateau May Be Scene of Armored Conflict

NEW DELHI (AP)—Indian and Red Chinese tanks are reported poised on a bleak Himalayan plateau for an expected showdown battle over a strategic Indian airfield on the western end of the rugged Himalayan front.

India flew light tanks to the nearly three-mile high Chushul airstrip in Ladakh, informed sources reported, to counter a Communist tank-reinforced buildup across the disputed border at Rudok in Tibet.

Communist tanks were seen only a few miles from the airstrip, an Indian Defense Ministry spokesman said.

The airfield is the only one the Indians have in the area and is vital to their supply line.

Only sporadic shelling and rifle fire were reported Friday in the northeastern sector of the frontier battleline where the Chinese have paused after early advances that threatened the thickly populated Assam Plains.

Both sides have reinforced their positions in Ladakh in the last 11 days.

Indian outposts in the area were overrun by Communist tanks in the initial Chinese offensive Oct. 20 and the Chinese surged swiftly toward Chushul, gaining control of all but 500 square miles of the 15,000-square mile Ladakh area.

Chinese troops were reported armed with Soviet-made AK47 automatic rifles, which are roughly comparable to the U.S. Army's M14s.

Unlike the steep mountain terrain in most of Ladakh, the frontier between Chushul and Rudok is fairly flat and barren, making tank warfare possible.

In Washington, the Defense Department said the U.S. airlift of light military arms that began last Saturday should be completed by Monday.

Department officials said India had not submitted any requests for additional weapons, but authorities here said U.S. Brig. Gen. John E. Kelly was due from Washington over the weekend to discuss further aid.

Prime Minister Nehru told a meeting of civil servants the government has started making automatic weapons that should be available in large quantities by next month.

U.S. To Oust Coach's Wife

CENTRALIA, Wash. (AP)—The attractive young English wife of a basketball coach has been ordered to leave the country and it appeared today that only an act of Congress can keep the couple together here.

Mrs. Ronald Brown, 24, who came here on an exchange teacher visitor's visa in 1960, was told last week she would have to leave the country by Dec. 9.

She and her husband, who met while both were teaching at Centralia High School, expect a baby in January.

Immigration service officials in Seattle said Mrs. Brown can probably get her visa extended until after the baby is born. But the only way she can get a permanent visa is through Congress.

Severe Winter Ahead?

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohioans apparently are contemplating a more severe winter than last year. A major tire company reports sales of snow tires are running better than 25 per cent ahead of 1961.

DuPont Announces Plans for New Experimental Unit

The Du Pont Co., will build an experimental unit at its Circleville plant for development work on a film which it is hoped may have extensive high temperature applications, it was announced today by Richard E. Heckert, plant manager.

Construction will begin in the near future. The unit is scheduled for completion in the spring of 1964.

Besides its work on product and process development, the new facility will produce samples of the film for market development.

It is anticipated that the unit will employ about 50 persons. It has been designed and will be constructed by the Du Pont Company's Engineering Department. About 100 construction employees will be required at peak of building activity.

THE experimental facility will be housed in a single story building covering about 12,000 square feet. It will adjoin the manufacturing unit for "Teflon" FEP film now under construction.

Announcement of the "Teflon" FEP film unit was made here Sept. 19. This facility will provide about 20 operating jobs, according to the company.

The L-shaped building housing the "Teflon" operation, covering about 10,000 square feet, will be located immediately to the west of the present plant building.

The new experimental unit project signifies the fourth expansion undertaken by DuPont since the Circleville plant was established for production in 1954. The company's present operation employs about 800 persons here.

Rhodes Names Finance Aide

Lima Man Selected By Governor-Elect

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Governor-elect James A. Rhodes today announced his first cabinet appointment—Richard Lowell Krabach of Lima as director of finance.

Krabach, 49, has served as chairman of the Board of Review of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation since 1957. Prior to that he was U. S. comptroller for the Virgin Islands in the Eisenhower Administration.

A native of Wapakoneta, Krabach is married and the father of three—Joseph, 20, a student at Georgetown University; Kathy, 18, a student at Lake Erie College, and Connie, 12, at home.

Prior to holding the state and federal posts, Krabach practiced law in Lima from 1947 to 1954. His previous experience includes supervisor of budgets, Westinghouse Electric Corp., Lima, 1942-1947; tax analyst, City Loan & Savings Co., Lima, 1939-42; field representative, General Motors Acceptance Corp., Washington, D. C., 1936-39, and an accountant for the Metropolitan Bank, Lima, 1934-36.

He holds a bachelor of science degree in accounting from Xavier University, Cincinnati, and a law degree from Ohio Northern University, Ada. Besides accounting, his chief undergraduate subjects at Xavier were economics and taxation.

Krabach will succeed James H. Maloon who has been finance director during the administration of Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. The new director will assume his post Jan. 14, the day Rhodes takes office. His appointment is subject to confirmation by the Ohio Senate.

Immunity Pledge Given Distiller

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Common Pleas Judge Robert M. Draper has signed a certificate promising immunity to a Chicago distiller in connection with a grand jury probe of alleged influence peddling in the state liquor department.

The certificate along with $495 to cover witness fees and mileage was forwarded Friday to Portland, Ore., where the distiller, Joseph Makler, may attend a weekend convention of liquor manufacturers.

Makler claimed in a letter Sept. 28 he was forced to pay to have his company's brands listed in Ohio liquor stores. It was his letter that touched off the investigation but he has been out of reach since the probe got underway.

Soviet Technicians Pulling Out; but U.S. Maintains Blockade

WASHINGTON (AP)—More than half the 40-odd Soviet missiles secretly installed in Cuba are reported on their way back to Russia. The rest are due to be needed home by Monday night.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev is also understood to be pulling out several thousand military technicians assigned to the Cuban rocket bases.

But there were indications the end of the U.S. blockade may not be soon.

Khrushchev's cleanup of the known missile sites—and at an unexpected speed—coincides with the apparent end of Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan's mission to Havana.

U.S. officials now take it Mikoyan has failed in any effort he may have made to pressure Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro into accepting international inspection to verify removal of the missiles and dismantling of the bases.

In Havana, Mikoyan was reported to have conferred again Friday night with Castro after having spent Thursday touring collective farms with him. But Washington officials believe Mikoyan may leave this weekend.

So far as President Kennedy is concerned, officials said, this assumed failure of Mikoyan means Khrushchev will not live up to that part of his Cuban crisis agreement that called for international (Continued on Page 10)

Akron Trio Claims Rare Stamp Find

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A trio of Akron area stamp collectors say they have a rare "invert" on 19 stamps issued Oct. 24 to honor Dag Hammarskjöld—the yellow color plate was printed upside down.

Because of that mistake, the 4 cent imprint appears on the opposite corner and there is a white stripe running through the United National Building.

Gerald P. Clark, who originally bought a sheet of 50 of the stamps from the nearby Cuyahoga Falls Post office, has 16 left. He gave two stamps to William Throop and one to Russell Ferguson. The other 31 he placed on letters he mailed to friends. He figures it was like mailing away money.

The three collectors now have placed their stamps in the safe deposit box of a bank. They figure each stamp is worth between $2,000 and $3,000—and perhaps up to $10,000 if there are no other "invert" stamps floating around.

"This is something every stamp collector dreams about," Throop said Friday. "This find probably will be classified as one of the great rarities in U. S. stamps."

In Washington, a post office expert said he hadn't heard of the inversion, but was interested. The Bureau of Engraving, where a check would have to be made, is closed until Tuesday.

Freeze-dried foods are at this time the "hot" news in many magazines and stores, especially in Columbus.

This will probably be true in other sections of the state within the next few months. Columbus has been selected as a test market for freeze-dried dinners now being marketed by a large meat packer. Freeze-drying actually combines two processes—freezing and drying. Foods are first frozen, then slowly dehydrated under vacuum until practically all the moisture is removed. This causes ice to vaporize leaving the product porous and in its original shape—with the tissue and fiber essentially unchanged.

Freeze-dried foods weigh from one-sixth to one-third of their original weight. They can be quickly rehydrated or reconstituted by adding water. They will retain their original weight, flavor and texture. Reports indicate there is little or no change in nutritive value or palatability.

Freeze-drying, like many other processes of food preservation, is no better than the quality of the product at the beginning. No form of processing will improve the quality from that at harvest time. However, a consumer specialist reports that the possibility of a high quality product reaching the consumer's table may be greater with freeze-drying than with frozen foods.

Generally frozen foods must be maintained at a temperature of zero or below if quality is to be maintained. Frozen foods are handled by many people before they get to the consumer and occasionally will be allowed to reach a temperature above zero. This tends to reduce the quality finally reaching the consumer.

One of the major advantages of freeze-dried foods lies in the fact that they do not require refrigeration in the market or at home. Providing the package is not broken, shelf life should be equal to that of other forms of processing. However, it is no longer so important that Mrs. Buy Right hurry home from shopping as she had to do with frozen foods.

Also, there is less of a possibility of freeze-dried foods losing quality during the marketing process since the foods need not be stored at a temperature of zero or below.

Freeze-dried foods are easier to handle and store since they are reduced in weight. We get heat damage with the drying process as contrasted with the freeze-drying process. We do not get this with the freeze-drying process because we remove the moisture in the frozen state.

Freeze-dried foods do not need to be thawed before using as do some frozen foods. They can be reconstituted by adding water and prepared in a matter of minutes.

Cost has been one of the main disadvantages of freeze-dried foods. This has been one of the major reasons for freeze-dried foods slow entry onto the market. These costs may be reduced somewhat if processors can increase their volume.

Freeze-dried foods require a superior package to what is used for frozen foods. The package must not be easily broken, must be sealed tightly and must not absorb moisture or the food will spoil rapidly. This tends to increase the cost of packaging.

U.S. Net Farm Income in '61 Tops '60 Level

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Agriculture Department study shows that net farm incomes were higher in 1961 than in 1960 on 27 of 39 important types of commercial farms in 21 major farming areas in the United States.

Net farm incomes in 1961 were lower on seven types of farms and about the same on the other.

Returns were higher in 1961 on the dairy farms in the Midwest and Northeast, the Corn Belt farms, the western cattle ranches, the tobacco farms in the coastal plains of North Carolina and the tobacco-livestock farms in the bluegrass area of Kentucky.

They were lower on the poultry farms and the western sheep ranches.

In general, the changes in net incomes from 1960 to 1961 were quite substantial on the majority of farms. Only 12 farm types had no change or changes of less than 1 per cent.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department estimates the 1962 output of cigarettes at 539 billion, about 11 billion above 1961 and a new high.

U.S. use of cigarettes, including that of overseas forces, is estimated at 512 billion, up about 9 billion from 1961.

Although total output and use that of any previous year, the output of cigarettes in 1962 will be above rate of gain may be smaller than for several years.

A continuation of the upward trend in cigarette smoking could normally be expected in 1963, but the gain will probably be at a more gradual rate than during the years 1955 through 1961.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A slight increase in acreages for 1963 early and late spring potatoes is recommended by the Agriculture Department.

An acreage guide supports a total spring crop of 138,850 acres, or 3 per cent more than the 135,000 acres planted in 1962. With average yields, the probable production from this acreage would be 26.5 million hundred weight. This compares with the 1962 harvest of 24.1 million.

Steaks $1.20, but Farmers Get Only 25 Cents

Steers aren't all steak. When choice steers are selling for 25 cents a pound live on the farm, it's a bit of a jolt to find that a good T-bone steak is $1.20 on the retail counter.

Let's look at it this way. On the farm a 1,000 pound steer is worth 25 cents a pound, but it's not all steak.

Some 550 pounds of the animal end up as hide, liver, heart, fat, bone and waste. For this part of the steer the farmer gets something less than 4 cents a pound. But the 450 pounds that will end up as beef on the retail counter, he averages about 50 cents per pound.

AT THE OTHER end of the line, the retail price for all cuts of this choice beef averages about 80 cents a pound. The 30 cents a pound difference covers all that happens to the beef on the way from the feedlot to the retail counter.

Red China Farm Mechanization Fails

TOKYO (AP)—Red China supplied new evidence of the gravity of its economic plight with an announcement it will take from 20 to 25 years to mechanize its agriculture.

The Red regime had set the deadline originally at 10 years, with semi-mechanization to be achieved in three. Though no figures have been published, the Communist leadership belatedly admitted this year that the industrial "great leap forward" had been stalled by three years of natural calamities and human mismanagement.

The official Peiping People's Daily said today Red China needs more than one million tractors to farm its 230 million acres of land. It now has only 100,000.

Venus Spacecraft Back in Business

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The Venus-bound Mariner II spacecraft, whose mission was threatened by a power shortage, is apparently back in business.

The jet propulsion laboratory here reported Oct. 31 that there had been a mysterious drop in voltage supplied by solar panels on the spacecraft. To conserve power, scientists commanded the Mariner by radio to shut off some of its instruments. These instruments had been accumulating space environment data.

The laboratory said Thursday night that Mariner had somehow corrected the power problem. They said it was again sending scientific data to earth.

The Mariner is expected to reach the vicinity of Venus in mid-December.

and Gene Houser, vo-ag teachers, and Edwin Taylor, 4-H agent, attended from Pickaway County.

The topic of the day's program was "Fitting a Co-operative Into Our Educational Programs". A panel discussion and several speakers brought out many good points about our topic. It was pointed out to the vo-ag teachers, 4-H agents, and managers that there is a need for the co-op to present the story to the people in Ohio especially the youth. People need to have an understanding of the purpose of co-operatives, how and why they were founded, what they offer to the public, and how to use their services.

One of the many educational programs carried out is the American Institute of Co-operatives. This is a meeting where youth from all 50 states get together and discuss co-operatives and their functions.

The A.I.C. Convention is held in a different state each year. It was held at Ohio State University in August, 1962.

The county co-op educational committee made preliminary plans to send two delegates (one 4-H and one FFA) to the AIC Convention in Lincoln, Nebraska, August 4-9, 1963. The delegates to the convention will be selected by the use of a co-op quiz contest. It is planned that the two delegates to the 1963 convention will be sponsored by local co-operatives, FFA chapters, and 4-H clubs.

The Pickaway County co-op educational committee is composed of Robert Sweigert, chairman, Russell Palm, Hills Hall, Gene Houser, and Edwin Taylor.

Steers aren't all steak. When choice steers are selling for 25 cents a pound live on the farm, it's a bit of a jolt to find that a good T-bone steak is $1.20 on the retail counter.

Let's look at it this way. On the farm a 1,000 pound steer is worth 25 cents a pound, but it's not all steak.

Some 550 pounds of the animal end up as hide, liver, heart, fat, bone and waste. For this part of the steer the farmer gets something less than 4 cents a pound. But the 450 pounds that will end up as beef on the retail counter, he averages about 50 cents per pound.

AT THE OTHER end of the line, the retail price for all cuts of this choice beef averages about 80 cents a pound. The 30 cents a pound difference covers all that happens to the beef on the way from the feedlot to the retail counter.

To make up this average of 80 cents for 450 pounds of meat sold, the breakdown would be on the average something like this: 150 pounds of hamburger at 58 cents per pound, 40 pounds of rib roast at 82 cents per pound, 90 pounds of chuck roast at 65 cents per pound, 20 pounds of rump roast at $1.01 per pound, 50 pounds of sirloin steak at $1.02 per pound, 70 pounds of round steak at $1.06 per pound, and 30 pounds of T-bone, club, and porterhouse steaks at $1.20 per pound.

Red China Farm Mechanization Fails

TOKYO (AP)—Red China supplied new evidence of the gravity of its economic plight with an announcement it will take from 20 to 25 years to mechanize its agriculture.

The Red regime had set the deadline originally at 10 years, with semi-mechanization to be achieved in three. Though no figures have been published, the Communist leadership belatedly admitted this year that the industrial "great leap forward" had been stalled by three years of natural calamities and human mismanagement.

The official Peiping People's Daily said today Red China needs more than one million tractors to farm its 250 million acres of land. It now has only 100,000.

Venus Spacecraft Back in Business

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The Venus-bound Mariner II spacecraft, whose mission was threatened by a power shortage, is apparently back in business.

The jet propulsion laboratory here reported Oct. 31 that there had been a mysterious drop in voltage supplied by solar panels on the spacecraft. To conserve power, scientists commanded the Mariner by radio to shut off some of its instruments. These instruments had been accumulating space environment data.

The laboratory said Thursday night that Mariner had somehow corrected the power problem. They said it was again sending scientific data to earth.

The Mariner is expected to reach the vicinity of Venus in mid-December.

Los Angeles surrounds the independent cities of San Fernando, Culver City and Beverly Hills.

A large sunspot is really as bright as 100 full moons.

and Gene Houser, vo-ag teachers, and Edwin Taylor, 4-H agent, attended from Pickaway County.

The topic of the day's program was "Fitting a Co-operative Into Our Educational Programs". A panel discussion and several speakers brought out many good points about our topic. It was pointed out to the vo-ag teachers, 4-H agents, and managers that there is a need for the co-op to present the story to the people in Ohio especially the youth. People need to have an understanding of the purpose of co-operatives, how and why they were founded, what they offer to the public, and how to use their services.

One of the many educational programs carried out is the American Institute of Co-operatives. This is a meeting where youth from all 50 states get together and discuss co-operatives and their functions.

The A.I.C. Convention is held in a different state each year. It was held at Ohio State University in August, 1962.

The county co-op educational committee made preliminary plans to send two delegates (one 4-H and one FFA) to the AIC Convention in Lincoln, Nebraska, August 4-9, 1963. The delegates to the convention will be selected by the use of a co-op quiz contest. It is planned that the two delegates to the 1963 convention will be sponsored by local co-operatives, FFA chapters, and 4-H clubs.

The Pickaway County co-op educational committee is composed of Robert Sweigert, chairman, Russell Palm, Hillis Hall, Gene Houser, and Edwin Taylor.

He Is Happiest Of Pea-Pickers

By LEONARD J. SNYDER
Central Press Association
Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO — Tennessee Ernie Ford has something most unusual—a television network program originating on a regularly scheduled basis outside of Hollywood or New York. And this makes for a mighty happy pea-picker.

"If a man can go to work in the morning whistling and come home at night like a woodpecker in a lumberyard, he should feel pretty content," says Ernie, who "can't remember being happier."

Ernie decided more than a year ago that he had had enough of Hollywood, where his nighttime television show of five years was highly rated. He wanted to do his show from San Francisco. And the network was happy to oblige.

Ernie wanted to quit Hollywood because "the pressure of my work was beginning to affect the well-being of my family." He wanted to spend more time with his wife, Betty, and their two sons, Buck, 12, and Brian, 10. "Old Ern" wanted more time, too, for his favorite pastimes: fishing, hunting, golf. And he has it.

"We like the Bay Area," Ford says, referring to the family's 4,750 square feet under a U-shaped roof on 15½ acres of rolling hills behind Stanford University, some 400 miles north of Hollywood and Vine, and 40 miles south of his San Francisco studio. "Now I'm close to my 540-acre ranch up at Clear Lake." At Clear Lake, which is north of San Francisco, Ernie raises purebred Hereford cattle and other types of livestock. In two words, he's "sitting pretty."

It takes a bundle of personality and show business talent to win a national TV network over the way Old Ern has. For him it was either quit Hollywood while he was ahead or get drowned in it. Ernie loves life too much for the latter.

"Show business is like a fire. It can warm or burn you," he says. "As long as you don't let it run your life, it's a wonderful way to earn a living. I just want to be able to tell people 'I can't do every show that comes along. I'm booked to go deer-hunting with my son.'"

What he now has, says Ernie, "is the life I worked for—a job I enjoy, a beauty of a home, and a chance to be a down-to-earth husband and father. Makes for a mighty nice feeling when you get up in the morning."

It's apparent that Ernie feels

Tennessee Ernie Ford

pretty nice each morning, too. His millions of viewers who tune in on one of some 175 network stations that air his half hour morning daily show enjoy his mirth.

Ernie is as easy-going off the camera as he is on it. The format of his show is flexible and, says producer-director Bill Burch, "just perfect for Ernie. He always liked day-time shows, and this one is right up his alley. Old Ern can sing, joke, talk and even play with the commercials, and still come out time-wise right on the button."

Ford, who'll be 44 next Feb. 13, was born and schooled in Bristol, Tenn., where he was the local radio station's staff announcer at 25. Later he learned to use his bass voice to better advantage at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music.

Ford was an announcer in Atlanta and Knoxville in 1939 to 1941 and, at the war's outset, enlisted in the Air Corps, and subsequently became a bombardier. Ernie met his wife while stationed in California and got his first job on the West Coast after the war with a radio station in San Bernardino in Southern California. Later he became a hillbilly disc jockey in Pasadena.

Ford met veteran western music star Cliffie Stone there and Cliffie soon had Ernie as a regular on his Saturday night program and that launched his recording career.

Ford's recording of "Sixteen Tons" in 1955 was then the biggest seller in record history. A million copies were sold in three weeks, two million in nine and it's still being bought across the land.

Today, the popular pea-picker who quit Hollywood for "easy living" in northern California has no thoughts of going back. What he's doing now "beats working," says Ernie. "It sure beats working."

POSES, THEN ROBS—This is a photo of an unidentified young man posing for New York photographer Vincent Armas, 53, before he hit Armas on the head and robbed him of $249 in cash, the photographer told police.

Food Supplies Of Nation Said Ample

WASHINGTON (AP) — Food supplies in the United States continue to be more than adequate for domestic use as well as near-record exports.

The Agriculture Department, in a summary of the national food situation, said record production of livestock products in 1962, most of which is domestically consumed, is expected to increase in 1963.

Carryover stocks of processed fruits and vegetables at the end of this year are expected to increase. Supplies of food fats and oils are large enough in 1962 to provide for a substantial increase in exports and possibly some increase in the relatively large carryover stocks.

Consumer expenditures for food have increased this year and for 1962 as a whole may total 3.5 to 4 per cent above 1961. Retail food prices through the first nine months of 1962 have average 0.7 per cent higher than a year earlier.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department says egg production in 1963 probably will exceed slightly the 175 million cases which are in prospect for 1962. And a greater output of broilers and turkeys also appears in prospect for 1963 compared with 1962. Producers received higher prices in 1962 for both of these products than in 1961.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cattle feeders on Oct. 1 had 8 per cent more cattle and calves on feed for slaughter than a year earlier in the 28 major feeding states. The number on feed on that date totaled 6.1 million head compared with 5.7 million on Oct. 1, 1961.

UN Is United In Tribute to 'First Lady'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The blue and white flag of the United Nations flew at half-staff today in memory of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt as the General Assembly interrupted its debates for a special memorial service.

Diplomats from 110 countries stood with bowed heads for a one-minute silent tribute. Then they listened with rapt attention while her close friend, U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson eulogized her as one who had helped mold the United Nations and give it spirit.

"I do not think it amiss," he said, "to suggest that the United Nations is in no small way a memorial to her and her aspirations."

"The issues we debate in this hall are many and grave but I don't think we are divided so the passing of this great human being who is called the First Lady of the World," he said.

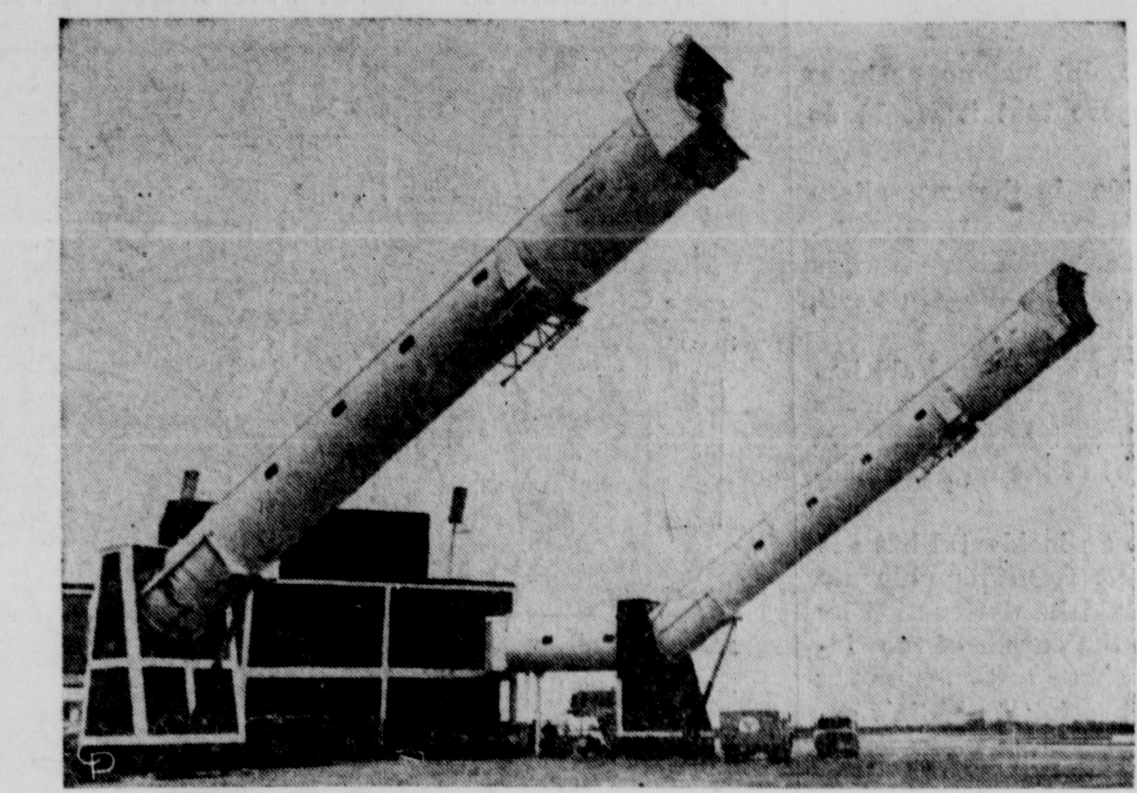

The president of the assembly, Muhammad Zafrullah Khan of Pakistan, told the delegates "all her activities reflected her devotion in enriching life of people everywhere without regard to race, color or religion. Mrs. Roosevelt has left us a deepened understanding of world."

Then a procession of diplomats, representing countries large and small, took the rostrum to pay their own tributes.

All-New Ohio Administration Already Off to Flying Start

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The new all-Republican administration is off to a flying start.

Figures from Tuesday's lopsided election were hardly dry before Gov. - Elect James A. Rhodes began huddling with GOP leaders on a program to lay before the General Assembly session starting Jan. 7. Rhodes takes office Jan. 14.

Republican members - elect of the legislature plan to caucus this month to continue in office Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem of Nelsonville and House Speaker Roger Cloud of Bellefontaine. The party strengthened its control of both houses for the 105th Legislative session.

Rhodes, rounding out 10 years as state auditor, expects to confer with Mechem, Cloud and others in drafting a program along lines laid down in his election campaign.

"I will confer constantly with the legislative leaders and all other people concerned with building a better state," Rhodes asserted.

Tentative drafts already have been made on legislation to create new jobs and industrial development authority, supplanting the present Department of Industrial and Economic Development (DIED), and a youth commission to deal with the care and treatment of juvenile delinquents. The commission proposal embraces suggestions from juvenile judges.

Also in the works are proposals for geriatric centers, called golden age villages, development of natural resources and expansion of public schools and higher education.

Work also is under way on an intensive treatment program for mental hospitals, welfare reorganization and a hard look at state finances.

Mechem, a shoe merchant, said one of the first tasks is to end wasteful spending and payroll padding by the state.

"Don't raise taxes until you eliminate waste," he admonished. "You can't tell me that the payroll in the state of Ohio should go up as much as it has. The state government hasn't grown that fast. There are a lot of people on the state payroll who don't belong there. Some of them aren't doing a thing."

Mechem expects considerable help from current studies by the Legislative Service Commission on tax inequities and the utilization of buildings at state universities.

"There is a need for new buildings at universities, I know," Mechem said. "But we want to know whether present facilities are being fully used and whether there is a need for as many new buildings as they claim."

Cloud said Rhodes' program would receive early consideration in the new legislature. Discussions with the governor-elect, he added, have included the means of getting a complete picture of state finances and tailoring an operating budget.

"The state's cash position certainly isn't in balance," Cloud stressed.

He predicted difficulty for the state in making a $58.8 million foundation payment for public schools this month and a similar payment next February.

After the tax study report is received, he said the problem will be to determine anticipated revenues, operating costs and how to meet further needs. Economic conditions will have an important bearing on the answers, he added.

Cloud said: "There is no commitment on taxes up or down. You have to get the whole thing before you in a budget. You won't know until then about specific financing."

Rhodes and GOP leaders have expressed opposition to a state income tax despite mention of such a levy by three statewide organizations — the Ohio Education Association, Ohio AFL - CIO and the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation.

Rhodes has indicated that he will push ahead in the face of what some aides described as the present administration's local civil war outlook.

They referred to Democrat Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's post-election statement that he will pursue claims that the auditor fraudulently charged local subdivisions rent for adding machines used by examiners in auditing their books.

Two accounting firms and a grand jury reported finding no law violations in the transactions. Rhodes said the application of rents to purchase of the machines by the state enabled his office to end such rentals at considerable savings to the subdivisions.

DiSalle issued his post-election statement in lieu of congratulations to the election winner. The governor termed Rhodes unqualified and said Ohio "has been cheap, backward and neglectful."

Rhodes To Keep Pledge to Israeli

JERUSALEM, Israel Section (AP) — Gov. Elect James A. Rhodes of Ohio will keep a promise he made two years ago to an Israeli, the newspaper "Tel Aviv Maariv" reported today.

It said Rhodes promised Israeli olympic committee's Secretary Haim Glibinsky he would build a swimming pool at the Wingate Physical Training Institute at Nathanya if he won his race for governor.

Republican Rhodes won Tuesday. Tuesday night he cabled Glibinsky he would keep his promise.

Rhodes said he and John Nagy, recreation director for the city of Cleveland, are cochairmen of a Sports for Israel Committee raising private funds for a $40,000 swimming pool.

Millionaires' Paradise Isle Is Outpost for Communism

ST. HELIER, Jersey (AP) — A tiny outpost of international communism is bidding for influence today in Jersey, the millionaires' paradise island off the coast of France.

The Jersey Communist Party is in fact the only party on the island. Despite its puny membership of 34, it believes, apparently with some reason, it can make an impact on the island's general elections 15 months from now.

Norman Le Brock, 40, a plasterer, is the party's leader. He is an orthodox Moscow-line Communist, but disclaims any intention or even hope of turning Jersey—a British crown island of only 60,000 population—into a sort of European Cuba.

"We had sensational papers talking of a Castro-type takeover here but this is nonsense," Le Brock said in an interview. "In fact we are considering fighting only three seats of the 28 in the States (Jersey's Parliament). But we feel we have a chance at two of them."

Last month Le Brock took second place and a third of the total votes in a three-cornered fight to fill a Parliament vacancy. In the general election, with up to a dozen candidates standing for four seats in his St. Helier district, Le Brock's 452 votes would probably win a seat.

At first sight it is hardly credible that Jersey, with its booming farm and tourist industry, should find 452 people to vote Communist in a total district poll of 1,564.

Every year close to 500,000 tourists pack into Jersey's 73 square miles. In the spring, hotels are packed with honeymooners. Hotels offer a couple two weeks with all meals and good bands and cabarets for a mere 35 pounds ($100).

As a bank manager put it, the island oozes wealth. Thirteen of the 60,000 residents are pound sterling millionaires. Hundreds, perhaps thousands, count their capital in six figures—money made in British business and then brought here to escape stinging inheritance taxes.

International issues virtually never figure in Jersey's politics. The Communists can thus exploit local grievances without being called to account for communism's international record.

Le Brock said he won his special election votes by highlighting deficiencies in the island's social services. He wants Jersey to adopt in entirety the British welfare state system.

Sunday Closing Ordered by Mayor

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Mayor Charles H. Scott asked all Mansfield merchants today to close their stores on Sunday as a result of the city and state-wide defeat of the Sunday sales amendment.

Scott, in the first attempt to close Mansfield stores on Sunday, said legal action would be filed against all store owners who continued to operate this Sunday in violation of the state Blue Laws.

An amendment to the Ohio Constitution which would have permitted the sale of certain items on Sunday was defeated. Mansfield voted down the amendment by 7,110 to 5,163. Scott said his decision was in reply to the wishes of Mansfield voters as expressed in their balloting.

Ernie wanted to quit Hollywood because "the pressure of my work was beginning to affect the well-being of my family." He wanted to spend more time with his wife, Betty, and their two sons, Buck, 12, and Brian, 10. "Old Ern" wanted more time, too, for his favorite pastimes: fishing, hunting, golf. And he has it.

"We like the Bay Area," Ford says, referring to the family's 4,750 square feet under a U-shaped roof on 15½ acres of rolling hills behind Stanford University, some 400 miles north of Hollywood and Vine, and 40 miles south of his San Francisco studio. "Now I'm close to my 540-acre ranch up at Clear Lake."

At Clear Lake, which is north of San Francisco, Ernie raises purebred Hereford cattle and other types of livestock. In two words, he's "sitting pretty."

It takes a bundle of personality and show business talent to win a national TV network over the way Old Ern has. For him it was either quit Hollywood while he was ahead or get drowned in it. Ernie loves life too much for the latter.

"Show business is like a fire. It can warm or burn you," he says. "As long as you don't let it run your life, it's a wonderful way to earn a living. I just want to be able to tell people 'I can't do every show that comes along. I'm booked to go deer-hunting with my son.'"

What he now has, says Ernie, "is the life I worked for—a job I enjoy, a beauty of a home, and a chance to be a down-to-earth husband and father. Makes for a mighty nice feeling when you get up in the morning."

It's apparent that Ernie feels

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Saturday, Nov. 10, the 314th day of 1962. There are 51 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this day in 1937, the Quebec Parliament in Montreal took positive action against Communists. It directed that raids be carried out against Communist newspaper plants, bookshops, job printing establishments and libraries and all were padlocked.

On this day: In 1799, Napoleon dissolved the Council of 500, the lower house of the French Legislature established during the Revolution.

In 1865, Capt. Wirz was hanged for cruelty to Union prisoners in the Confederacy's Andersonville prison.

In 1928, Hirohito was enthroned as emperor of Japan.

In 1938, death came to Turkey's first president, Mustafa Kemal Ataturk.

In 1954, the Marine Corps was honored on the 179th anniversary of its founding with the dedication at Arlington, Va., of a statue depicting the raising of the American flag on Iwo Jima during World War II.

Today's birthdays: Singer Jane Froman is 51. Major league baseball coach Jimmy Dykes is 66. Thought for today:

pretty nice each morning, too. His millions of viewers who tune in on one of some 175 network stations that air his half hour morning daily show enjoy his mirth.

Ernie is as easy-going off the camera as he is on it. The format of his show is flexible and, says producer-director Bill Burch, "just perfect for Ernie. He always liked day-time shows, and this one is right up his alley. Old Ern can sing, joke, talk and even play with the commercials, and still come out time-wise right on the button."

Ford, who'll be 44 next Feb. 13, was born and schooled in Bristol, Tenn., where he was the local radio station's staff announcer at 25. Later he learned to use his bass voice to better advantage at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music.

Ford was an announcer in Atlanta and Knoxville in 1939 to 1941 and, at the war's outset, enlisted in the Air Corps, and subsequently became a bombardier.

Ernie met his wife while stationed in California and got his first job on the West Coast after the war with a radio station in San Bernardino in Southern California. Later he became a hillbilly disc jockey in Pasadena.

Ford met veteran western music star Cliffie Stone there and Cliffie soon had Ernie as a regular on his Saturday night program and that launched his recording career.

Ford's recording of "Sixteen Tons" in 1955 was then the biggest seller in record history. A million copies were sold in three weeks, two million in nine and it's still being bought across the land.

Today, the popular pea-picker who quit Hollywood for "easy living" in northern California has no thoughts of going back. What he's doing now "beats working," says Ernie. "It sure beats working."

Food Supplies Of Nation Said Ample

WASHINGTON (AP) — Food supplies in the United States continue to be more than adequate for domestic use as well as near-record exports.

The Agriculture Department, in a summary of the national food situation, said record production of livestock products in 1962, most of which is domestically consumed, is expected to increase in 1963.

Carryover stocks of processed fruits and vegetables at the end of this year are expected to increase. Supplies of food fats and oils are large enough in 1962 to provide for a substantial increase in exports and possibly some increase in the relatively large carryover stocks.

Consumer expenditures for food have increased this year and for 1962 as a whole may total 3.5 to 4 per cent above 1961. Retail food prices through the first nine months of 1962 have average 0.7 per cent higher than a year earlier.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department says egg production in 1963 probably will exceed slightly the 175 million cases which are in prospect for 1962. And a greater output of broilers and turkeys also appears in prospect for 1963 compared with 1962. Producers received higher prices in 1962 for both of these products than in 1961.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cattle feeders on Oct. 1 had 8 per cent more cattle and calves on feed for slaughter than a year earlier in the 28 major feeding states. The number on feed on that date totaled 6.1 million head compared with 5.7 million on Oct. 1, 1961.

UN Is United In Tribute to 'First Lady'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The blue and white flag of the United Nations flew at half-staff today in memory of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt as the General Assembly interrupted its debates for a special memorial service.

Diplomats from 110 countries stood with bowed heads for a one-minute silent tribute. Then they listened with rapt attention while her close friend, U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson eulogized her as one who had helped mold the United Nations and give it spirit.

"I do not think it amiss," he said, "to suggest that the United Nations is in no small way a memorial to her and her aspirations."

"The issues we debate in this hall are many and grave but I don't think we are divided so the passing of this great human being who is called the First Lady of the World," he said.

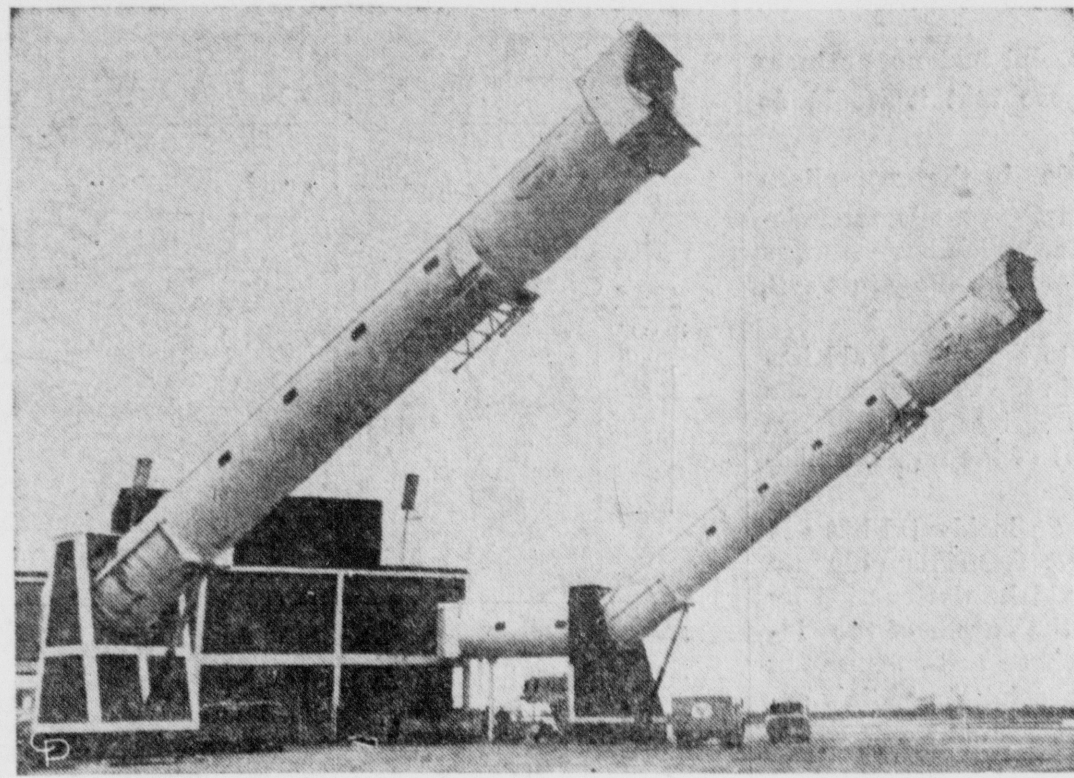

The president of the assembly, Muhammad Zafrullah Khan of Pakistan, told the delegates "all her activities reflected her devotion in enriching life of people everywhere without regard to race, color or religion. Mrs. Roosevelt has left us a deepened understanding of world."

Then a procession of diplomats, representing countries large and small, took the rostrum to pay their own tributes.

All-New Ohio Administration Already Off to Flying Start

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The new all-Republican administration is off to a flying start.

Figures from Tuesday's lopsided election were hardly dry before Gov. Elect James A. Rhodes began huddling with GOP leaders on a program to lay before the General Assembly session starting Jan. 7. Rhodes takes office Jan. 14.

Republican members - elect of the legislature plan to caucus this month to continue in office Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem of Nelsonville and House Speaker Roger Cloud of Bellefontaine. The party strengthened its control of both houses for the 105th Legislative session.

Rhodes, rounding out 10 years as state auditor, expects to confer with Mechem, Cloud and others in drafting a program along lines laid down in his election campaign.

"I will confer constantly with the legislative leaders and all other people concerned with building a better state," Rhodes asserted.

Tentative drafts already have been made on legislation to create new jobs and industrial development authority, supplanting the present Department of Industrial and Economic Development (DIED), and a youth commission to deal with the care and treatment of juvenile delinquents. The commission proposal embraces suggestions from juvenile judges.

Also in the works are proposals for geriatric centers, called golden age villages, development of natural resources and expansion of public schools and higher education.

Work also is under way on an intensive treatment program for mental hospitals, welfare reorganization and a hard look at state finances.

Mechem, a shoe merchant, said one of the first tasks is to end wasteful spending and payroll padding by the state.

"Don't raise taxes until you eliminate waste," he admonished. "You can't tell me that the payroll in the state of Ohio should go up as much as it has. The state government hasn't grown that fast. There are a lot of people on the state payroll who don't belong there. Some of them aren't doing a thing."

Mechem expects considerable help from current studies by the Legislative Service Commission on tax inequities and the utilization of buildings at state universities.

"There is a need for new buildings at universities, I know," Mechem said. "But we want to know whether present facilities are being fully used and whether there is a need for as many new buildings as they claim."

Cloud said Rhodes' program would receive early consideration in the new legislature.

Discussions with the governor-elect, he added, have included the means of getting a complete picture of state finances and tailoring an operating budget.

"The state's cash position certainly isn't in balance," Cloud stressed.

He predicted difficulty for the state in making a $58.8 million foundation payment for public schools this month and a similar payment next February.

After the tax study report is received, he said the problem will be to determine anticipated revenues, operating costs and how to meet further needs. Economic conditions will have an important bearing on the answers, he added.

Cloud said: "There is no commitment on taxes up or down. You have to get the whole thing before you in a budget. You won't know until then about specific financing."

Rhodes and GOP leaders have expressed opposition to a state income tax despite mention of such a levy by three statewide organizations — the Ohio Education Association, Ohio AFL-CIO and the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation.

Rhodes has indicated that he will push ahead in the face of what some aides described as the present administration's local civil war outlook.

They referred to Democrat Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's post-election statement that he will pursue claims that the auditor fraudulently charged local subdivisions rent for adding machines used by examiners in auditing their books.

Two accounting firms and a grand jury reported finding no law violations in the transactions. Rhodes said the application of rents to purchase of the machines by the state enabled his office to end such rentals at considerable savings to the subdivisions.

DiSalle issued his post-election statement in lieu of congratulations to the election winner.

The governor termed Rhodes unqualified and said Ohio "has been cheap, backward and neglectful."

Rhodes To Keep Pledge to Israeli

JERUSALEM, Israeli Section (AP) — Gov. Elect James A. Rhodes of Ohio will keep a promise he made two years ago to an Israeli, the newspaper "Tel Aviv Maariv" reported today.

It said Rhodes promised Israeli olympic committee's Secretary Haim Glibinsky he would build a swimming pool at the Wingate Physical Training Institute at Nathanya if he won his race for governor.

Republican Rhodes won Tuesday, Tuesday night he cabled Glibinsky he would keep his promise.

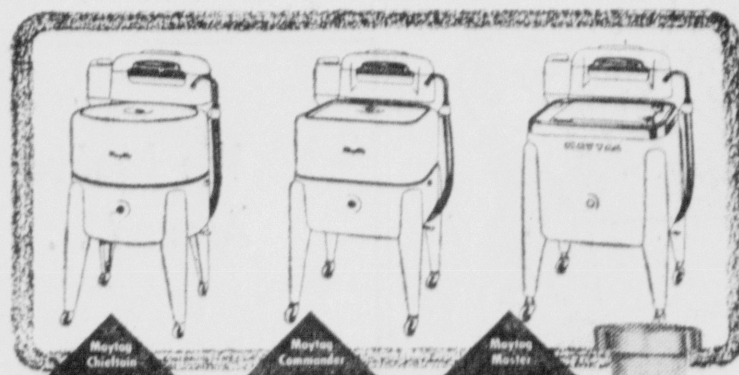

Rhodes said he and John Nagy, recreation director for the city of Cleveland, are co-chairmen of a Sports for Israel Committee raising private funds for a $40,000 swimming pool.

Millionaires' Paradise Isle Is Outpost for Communism

ST. HELIER, Jersey (AP) — A tiny outpost of international communism is bidding for influence today in Jersey, the millionaires' paradise island off the coast of France.

The Jersey Communist Party is in fact the only party on the island. Despite its puny membership of 34, it believes, apparently with some reason, it can make an impact on the island's general elections 15 months from now.

Norman Le Brock, 40, a plasterer, is the party's leader. He is an orthodox Moscow-line Communist, but disclaims any intention or even hope of turning Jersey—a British crown island of only 60,000 population—into a sort of European Cuba.

"We had sensational papers talking of a Castro-type takeover here but this is nonsense," Le Brock said in an interview. "In fact we are considering fighting only three seats of the 28 in the States (Jersey's Parliament). But we feel we have a chance at two of them."

Last month Le Brock took second place and a third of the total votes in a three-cornered fight to fill a Parliament vacancy. In the general election, with up to a dozen candidates standing for four seats in his St. Helier district, Le Brock's 452 votes would probably win a seat.

At first sight it is hardly credible that Jersey, with its booming farm and tourist industry, should find 452 people to vote Communist in a total district poll of 1,564.

Every year close to 500,000 tourists pack into Jersey's 73 square miles. In the spring, hotels are packed with honeymooners. Hotels offer a couple two weeks with all meals and good bands and cabarets for a mere 35 pounds ($100).

As a bank manager put it, the island oozes wealth. Thirteen of the 60,000 residents are pound sterling millionaires. Hundreds, perhaps thousands, count their capital in six figures—money made in British business and then brought here to escape stinging inheritance taxes.

International issues virtually never figure in Jersey's politics. The Communists can thus exploit local grievances without being called to account for communism's international record.

Le Brock said he won his special election votes by highlighting deficiencies in the island's social services. He wanted Jersey to adopt in entirety the British welfare state system.

Sunday Closing Ordered by Mayor

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Mayor Charles H. Scott asked all Mansfield merchants today to close their stores on Sunday as a result of the city and statewide defeat of the Sunday sales amendment.

Scott, in the first attempt to close Mansfield stores on Sunday, said legal action would be filed against all store owners who continued to operate this Sunday in violation of the state Blue Laws.

An amendment to the Ohio Constitution which would have permitted the sale of certain items on Sunday was defeated. Mansfield voters voted down the amendment by 7,110 to 5,163. Scott said his decision was in reply to the wishes of Mansfield voters as expressed in their balloting.

Friends in Need

The optimistic premises of Premier Nehru's non-alignment policy have been trampled by the boots of the Chinese soldiers who have spread over 12,000 square miles of Indian territory. For India hard reality has at last overwhelmed naive theory. Nonetheless, India has again voted to seat Red China in the UN.

Prime Minister Nehru, who long declined free arms on the ground that India's non-alignment would be compromised, is now ready to take help on any terms. And Britain and the United States, steadfast friends of India through all the provocations of Krishna Menon (now demoted, but not fired, by Nehru), are ready to supply it generously.

For India the invasion has been profoundly disillusioning. The Soviet Union, which posed as India's friend, is standing by China and, tartly observes an Indian newspaper, "New Delhi had no business whatsoever to suppose that it would do anything else."

And those friends in the non-aligned bloc, among them Egypt, Ghana, Indonesia and Yugoslavia, which have always insisted they were not neutral against evil, are all looking the other way.

Now it will be up to the wicked old imperialists to give India the support it needs to maintain its integrity and freedom against the onslaught of the new colonialism.

India could derive an incidental but not inconsiderable benefit from its unhappy experience. This would be destruction by the Chinese guns of the career of the insufferable Menon, whose soft-on-communism policies helped precipitate India's ordeal.

New 'Feeling' Coming?

Recovered from the twist yet? Out of traction? Fine.

But stand by, for with the disappearance of the twist has come a new dance craze. Variety, the show magazine, says it is sweeping the avant garde circles that create new fads and styles.

It's called the bossa nova — roughly the "new beat" in Portuguese. It came from Brazil and has the swing of the samba and the sophistication of cool jazz. Charlie Byrd, jazz guitarist, is credited with making the first definitive recording of it, "De-safinado," and other artists have followed with versions of the same tune.

So far, there's not much dance step to bossa nova. Byrd says it's "a feeling" or "a mood." Apparently one just feels "light all over, not wild, just the slightest ripple of movement." Maybe like shimmying.

Or maybe it's closer to the tingle one gets in the spine from scary things. Like picking up the current newspapers and reading the headlines.

Symptom of Decadence

By George Sokolsky

Machiavelli was a moralist who was trying to raise the banner of national survival in a period of universal debasement. For instance, he wrote:

"For when on the decision to be taken wholly depends the survival of one's country, no consideration should be given either to justice or injustice, to kindness or cruelty, or to its being praiseworthy or ignominious, but rather, any other thought being set aside, that alternative should be followed utterly which will save its existence and preserve its freedom."

Survival and the preservation of freedom are our problems today. It can be said that, by and large, the American people are not quite conscious of the danger that faces us or the enormity of our task. Americans tend to believe that it cannot happen to them, but it did happen to Great Britain which in half a century sank from the greatest power on Earth to a lesser power militarily and economically. Soviet Russia, which was not to be reckoned with in 1917, is today our principal competitor and rival.

The fault undoubtedly lay in our general ignorance of geography. We think in terms of the steamship and the Atlantic Ocean rather than of the jet transport plane and the North Pole. On a globe our near neighbor is Soviet Russia, only a few hours away from us.

Even wise and experienced men sometimes disregard geographical facts which "run against nature" and their beliefs. Napoleon, for instance, had no appreciation of the newly developed steamboat, just as some of our military officers, after World War I, fought hard to retain the horse despite the development of the tank. Both American and Canadian too often forget that in the next war, from the air and from space, they will look like one and will be treated accordingly.

History is replete with the rise and fall of Great Empires which came into existence on the rise of the spirit of a small people who push forward in search of land or population or slaves or food. Then comes a second period of imperialism; that is, when wealth and leisure produce art, literature, music, Lucullan living, overemphasis on sex. Imperialism takes the form of a distinctive civilization or religious idea. At some point the advance runs out. The usual cause is a rottenness within, an inability to give up to national ideals. Just as Rome was overthrown by the so-called barbarians, so was Spain ruined by too much gold and the little island off the coast of France and Scandinavia called England.

Great Powers have been reduced by lesser powers at certain periods of degeneracy in their history. After all, it is a sad moment in our history, that a people on the world's map, Cuba, dares to challenge our existence and is capable of obtaining the means to make the challenge so effective that we contemplate going to war over it.

Perhaps the greatest weakness of our culture is the unwillingness of our people to work long hours and the inappropriate use of leisure. The theory of short hours was sound at two periods: one, was during the Presidency of William McKinley when the eight-hour day became a major political issue. In fact, it was about this time that child labor and woman labor also became political issues.

The second period was during the Roosevelt Administration when the "spread-the-work" doctrine was adopted with a view to lessening unemployment by providing some work for as many as possible. The "spread-the-work" doctrine was adopted with a view to lessening unemployment by providing some work for as many as possible. The "spread-the-work" doctrine, as a temporary measure, was probably sound, but it encouraged inefficiency and reduction of the use of human skills because most workers lack skill. In fact, skills disappear and have to be replaced by automatic devices.

Now we come to a period when the worker becomes non-productive in comparison to the automatic machine. The worker demands increasing pay to cover "time" rather than skill. But time is hardly worth paying for. A distortion in the pay scales produced higher pay for an unskilled worker, such as a truck driver, compared to returns for such skills as a physicist or a chemist, a school teacher or a policeman. This distortion has tended to create moral confusions in our society such as a teachers' strike or a policeman's strike.

Nevertheless, the distortion is protected by government officials whose measure of right is their election to office. This is a symptom of decadence.

You're nursing your father-in-law back to health but he screams, whines and curses at you!

What can you do?

Understand and help him!

Picture yourself stuck in bed for months with someone else taking care of you. You might feel more like a baby than a grown-up — up — and just a burden to everyone.

You might not be able to stand this, but you couldn't fight back or flee. So you'd have to explode. You've faced this frustration many times.

You stub your toe and it hurts. Then you explode — you kick the chair, swear at it and let out all that pent-up anger.

You know the chair wasn't to blame; you ran into it. But it's handy when you blow your top.

Your patient has to vent his pent-up anger, too, and you're handy.

He purposely grows hard to please; he needs some excuse to sound off. He'll range about some allergy when you put flowers on his dinner tray — and whine when you forget them.

Some people enjoy being sick. They're grown-up babies who want to be waited on. Breakfast in bed feels like the royal treatment.

And like babies they throw tantrums to get their own way. They don't really want you to give in. They're sort of testing — to see if you're strong enough to lean on.

Let your patient explode. Don't take it personally. He'll feel better with everything off his chest.

Later, reassure him. Explain that you understand — that you blow your top, too.

Lean on him a little. He may want to fold laundry, polish silver or entertain Junior. Tell him some of your own troubles. He'll feel happier being useful.

And — who knows? — he may solve your problems while you solve his!

Americans Urged To Note Thanksgiving with Humility

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has proclaimed Thursday, Nov. 22, as Thanksgiving Day and has urged all Americans to observe it "with reverence and the President said "Let us renew with humility."

In a proclamation Wednesday, the spirit of the Pilgrims at the first Thanksgiving, lonely in an inscrutable wilderness, facing the dark unknown with a faith borne of their dedication to God and a fortitude drawn from their sense that all men were brothers."

The text: "Over three centuries ago in Plymouth, on Massachusetts Bay, the Pilgrims established the custom of gathering together each year to express their gratitude to God for the preservation of their community and for the harvests their labors brought forth in the new land. Joining with their neighbors, they shared together and worshipped together in a common giving of thanks. Thanksgiving Day has ever since been part of the fabric which has united Americans with their past, with each other and with the future of all mankind.

"It is fitting that we observe this year our own day of Thanksgiving. It is fitting that we give our thanks for the safety of our land, for the fertility of our harvests, for the strength of our liberties, for the health of our people. We do so in the spirit of self-righteousness. We recognize that we are the beneficiaries of the toil and devotion of our fathers and that we can pass their legacy on to our children only by equal toil and equal devotion. We recognize too that we live in a world of peril and change—and in so uncertain a time we are all the more grateful for the indestructible gifts of hope and love, which sustain us in adversity and inspire us to labor unceasingly for a more perfect community within this nation and around the earth.

"Now, therefore, I, John F. Kennedy, President of the United States of America, in accord with the joint resolution of Congress, approved Dec. 26, 1941, which designates the fourth Thursday in November of each year as Thanksgiving Day, do hereby proclaim Thursday, the twenty-second day of November this year, as a day of national thanksgiving. "I urge that all observe this day with reverence and with humility. "Let us renew the spirit of the Pilgrims at the first Thanksgiving, lonely in an inscrutable wilderness, facing the dark unknown with a faith borne of their dedication to God and a fortitude drawn from their sense that all men were brothers.

"Let us renew that spirit by offering our thanks for uncounted mercies, beyond our desert or merit, and by resolving to meet the responsibilities placed upon us.

"Let us renew that spirit by sharing the abundance of this day with those less fortunate, in our own land and abroad. Let us renew that spirit by seeking always to establish larger communities of brotherhood.

"Let us renew that spirit by preparing our souls for the incertitudes ahead — by being always ready to confront crisis with steadfastness and achievement with grace and modesty.

"Let us renew that spirit by concerting our energy and our hope with men and women everywhere that the world may move more rapidly toward the time when Thanksgiving may be a day of universal celebration.

"Let us renew that spirit by expressing our acceptance of the limitations of human striving and by affirming our duty to strive nonetheless, as Providence may direct us, toward a better world for all mankind.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed."

Friends in Need

The optimistic premises of Premier Nehru's non-alignment policy have been trampled by the boots of the Chinese soldiers who have spread over 12,000 square miles of Indian territory. For India hard reality has at last overwhelmed naive theory. Nonetheless, India has again voted to seat Red China in the UN.

Prime Minister Nehru, who long declined free arms on the ground that India's non-alignment would be compromised, is now ready to take help on any terms. And Britain and the United States, steadfast friends of Krishna Menon (now demoted, but not fired, by Nehru), are ready to supply it generously.

For India the invasion has been profoundly disillusioning. The Soviet Union, which posed as India's friend, is standing by China and, tartly observes an Indian newspaper, "New Delhi had no business whatsoever to suppose that it would do anything else."

And those friends in the non-aligned bloc, among them Egypt, Ghana, Indonesia and Yugoslavia, which have always insisted they were not neutral against evil, are all looking the other way.

Now it will be up to the wicked old imperialists to give India the support it needs to maintain its integrity and freedom against the onslaught of the new colonialism.

India could derive an incidental but not inconsiderable benefit from its unhappy experience. This would be destruction by the Chinese guns of the career of the insufferable Menon, whose soft-on-communism policies helped precipitate India's ordeal.

New 'Feeling' Coming?

Recovered from the twist yet? Out of traction? Fine.

But stand by, for with the disappearance of the twist has come a new dance craze. Variety, the show magazine, says it is sweeping the avant garde circles that create new fads and styles.

It's called the bossa nova — roughly the "new beat" in Portuguese. It came from Brazil and has the swing of the samba and the sophistication of cool jazz. Charlie Byrd, jazz guitarist, is credited with making the first definitive recording of it, "De-safinado," and other artists have followed with versions of the same tune.

So far, there's not much dance step to bossa nova. Byrd says it's "a feeling" or "a mood." Apparently one just feels "light all over, not wild, just the slightest ripple of movement." Maybe like shimmying.

Or maybe it's closer to the tingle one gets in the spine from scary things. Like picking up the current newspapers and reading the headlines.

Symptom of Decadence

By George Sokolsky

Machiavelli was a moralist who was trying to raise the banner of national survival in a period of universal debasement. For instance, he wrote:

"For when on the decision to be taken wholly depends the survival of one's country, no consideration should be given either to justice or injustice, to kindness or cruelty, or to its being praiseworthy or ignominious, but rather, any other thought being set aside, that alternative should be followed utterly which will save its existence and preserve its freedom."

Survival and the preservation of freedom are our problems today. It can be said that, by and large, the American people are not quite conscious of the danger that faces us or the enormity of our task. Americans tend to believe that it cannot happen to them, but it did happen to Great Britain which in half a century sank from the greatest power on Earth to a lesser power militarily and economically. Soviet Russia, which was not to be reckoned with in 1917, is today our principal competitor and rival.

The fault undoubtedly lay in our general ignorance of geography. We think in terms of the steamship and the Atlantic Ocean rather than of the jet transport plane and the North Pole. On a globe our near neighbor is Soviet Russia, only a few hours away from us.

Even wise and experienced men sometimes disregard geographical facts which "run against nature" and their beliefs. Napoleon, for instance, had no appreciation of the newly developed steamboat. Just as some of our military officers, after World War I, fought hard to retain the horse despite the development of the tank. Both American and Canadians too often forget that in the next war, from the air and from space, they will look like one and will be treated accordingly.

History is replete with the rise and fall of Great Empires which come into existence on the rise of the spirit of a small people who push forward in search of land or population or slaves or food. Then comes a second period of imperialism; that is, when wealth and leisure produce art, literature, music, Lucullan living, overemphasis on sex. Imperialism takes the form of a distinctive civilization or religious idea. At some point the advance runs out. The usual cause is a rottenness within, an inability to give up to national ideals. Just as Rome was overthrown by the so-called barbarians, so was Spain ruined by too much gold and the little island off the coast of France and Scandinavia called England.

Great Powers have been reduced by lesser powers at certain periods of degeneracy in their history. After all, it is a sad moment in our history, that a pimple on the world's map, Cuba, dares to challenge our existence and is capable of obtaining the means to make the challenge so effective that we contemplate going to war over it.

Perhaps the greatest weakness of our culture is the unwillingness of our people to work long hours and the inappropriate use of leisure. The theory of short hours was sound at two periods: one, was during the Presidency of William McKinley when the eight-hour day became a major political issue. In fact, it was about this time that child labor and woman labor also became political issues.

The second period was during the Roosevelt Administration when the "spread-the-work" doctrine was adopted with a view to lessening unemployment by providing some work for as many as possible. The "spread-the-work" doctrine was adopted with a view to lessening unemployment by providing some work for as many as possible. The "spread-the-work" doctrine, as a temporary measure, was probably sound, but it encouraged inefficiency and reduction of the use of human skills because most workers lack skill. In fact, skills disappear and have to be replaced by automatic devices.

Now we come to a period when the worker becomes non-productive in comparison to the automatic machine. The worker demands increasing pay to cover "time" rather than skill. But time is hard to pay for. A distortion in the pay scales produced higher pay for an unskilled worker, such as a truck driver, compared to returns for such skills as a physicist or a chemist, a school teacher or a policeman. This distortion has tended to create moral confusions in our society such as a teachers' strike or a policemen's strike.

Nevertheless, the distortion is protected by government officials whose measure of right is their election to office. This is a symptom of decadence.

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M. D.

You're nursing your father-in-law back to health but he screams, whines and curses at you! What can you do? Understand and help him! Picture yourself stuck in bed for months with someone else taking care of you. You might feel more like a baby than a grown-up — and just a burden to everyone. You might not be able to stand this, but you couldn't fight back or flee. So you'd have to explode. You've faced this frustration many times.

You stub your toe and it hurts. Then you explode — you kick the chair, swear at it and let out all that pent-up anger.

You know the chair wasn't to blame; you ran into it. But it's handy when you blow your top.

Your patient has to vent his pent-up anger, too, and you're handy.

He purposely grows hard to please; he needs some excuse to sound off. He'll range about some allergy when you put flowers on his dinner tray — and whine when you forget them.

Some people enjoy being sick. They're grown-up babies who want to be waited on. Breakfast in bed feels like the royal treatment.

And like babies they throw tantrums to get their own way. They don't really want you to give in. They're sort of testing — to see if you're strong enough to lean on.

Let your patient explode. Don't take it personally. He'll feel better with everything off his chest.

Later, reassure him. Explain that you understand — that you blow your top, too.

Lean on him a little. He may want to fold laundry, polish silver or entertain Junior. Tell him some of your own troubles. He'll feel happier being useful.

And — who knows? — he may solve your problems while you solve his!

Americans Urged To Note Thanksgiving with Humility

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has proclaimed Thursday, Nov. 22, as Thanksgiving Day and has urged all Americans to observe it "with reverence and the President said "Let us renew with humility."

In a proclamation Wednesday, the spirit of the Pilgrims at the first Thanksgiving, lonely in an inscrutable wilderness, facing the dark unknown with a faith borne of their dedication to God and a fortitude drawn from their sense that all men were brothers."

The text: "Over three centuries ago in Plymouth, on Massachusetts Bay, the Pilgrims established the custom of gathering together each year to express their gratitude to God for the preservation of their community and for the harvests their labors brought forth in the new land. Joining with their neighbors, they shared together and worshipped together in a common giving of thanks. Thanksgiving Day has ever since been part of the fabric which has united Americans with their past, with each other and with the future of all mankind."

"It is fitting that we observe this year our own day of Thanksgiving. It is fitting that we give our thanks for the safety of our land, for the fertility of our harvests, for the strength of our liberties, for the health of our people. We do so in no spirit of self-righteousness. We recognize that we are the beneficiaries of the toil and devotion of our fathers and that we can pass their legacy on to our children only by equal toil and equal devotion. We recognize too that we live in a world of peril and change—and in so uncertain a time we are all the more grateful for the indestructible gifts of hope and love, which sustain us in adversity and inspire us to labor unceasingly for a more perfect community within this nation and around the earth."

"Now, therefore, I, John F. Kennedy, President of the United States of America, in accord with the joint resolution of Congress, approved Dec. 26, 1941, which designates the fourth Thursday in November of each year as Thanksgiving Day, do hereby proclaim Thursday, the twenty-second day of November this year, as a day of national thanksgiving. "I urge that all observe this day with reverence and with humility. "Let us renew the spirit of the Pilgrims at the first Thanksgiving, lonely in an inscrutable wilderness, facing the dark unknown with a faith borne of their dedication to God and a fortitude drawn from their sense that all men were brothers.

"Let us renew that spirit by offering our thanks for uncounted mercies, beyond our desert or merit, and by resolving to meet the responsibilities placed upon us. "Let us renew that spirit by sharing the abundance of this day with those less fortunate, in our own land and abroad. Let us renew that spirit by seeking ways to establish larger communities of brotherhood."

"Let us renew that spirit by preparing our souls for the incertitudes ahead — by being always ready to confront crisis with steadfastness and achievement with grace and modesty. "Let us renew that spirit by concerning our energy and our hope with men and women everywhere that the world may move more rapidly toward the time when Thanksgiving may be a day of universal celebration. "Let us renew that spirit by expressing our acceptance of the limitations of human striving and by affirming our duty to strive nonetheless, as Providence may direct us, toward a better world for all mankind. "In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed."

5 Big Races Are Listed as Still Undecided

4 Governor, Senator Tests Remain under Close Vote Cloud

WASHINGTON (AP)—The final outcome of election contests to choose four governors and one U.S. senator remained clouded today by the closeness of the vote and the possibility of ballot recounts.

It may be weeks before voters in Minnesota, Rhode Island, Maine and Massachusetts can be sure who their new governors are. In Minnesota and Rhode Island the winners have not been even unofficially determined yet and recounts are possible in all four states.

And in South Dakota and Alabama, Republicans said they may challenge the victories of Democrats in close Senate races, on grounds of voting irregularities.

Votes still trickling in from Tuesday's election produced a virtual dead heat in Minnesota's gubernatorial race between Republican incumbent Elmer L. Andersen and his Democratic challenger, Lt. Gov. Karl Rolvaag.

With two small precincts still out, Andersen's lead over Rolvaag was 171 votes—619,942 to 619,771. The final determination of the states' voting boards probably won't be made until Nov. 20, and then a recount request by the loser would be in order.

In Rhode Island, incumbent Democratic Gov. John A. Notte Jr.'s lead over Republican John A. Chaffee was only 47 votes, with the absentee ballots still uncounted and the canvass of voting machine tabulations still to be completed.

In Massachusetts, state police guarded ballots and voting machines as both candidates for governor took out petitions for recounts. The final unofficial tally showed Democrat Edmundo Peabody a winner by 2,163 votes over Republican incumbent John A. Volpe, out of a total vote of 2.1 million.

The official count is not expected to be completed until next week.

Maine's losing Democratic candidate Maynard C. Dolloff has said he will seek a recount of the vote that put him 405 votes behind Republican Gov. John H. Reed. He has not yet made a formal request, however.

A strong possibility of a recount in South Dakota's Senate race between Democrat George McGovern and incumbent Republican Joe Bottom was raised today by Republican officials. McGovern scored a 201-vote victory over Bottom.

Bottom said the GOP felt there had been "substantial voting irregularities" in the election, including the registration of many missile base and airbase workers who had not met the state's one-year residence requirement.

Bottom said he planned to bring proper proceedings to contest the election and secure a vote recount.

In Alabama, John Grenier, state GOP chairman, said he has evidence of voting irregularities that may lead to a challenge of Sen. Lister Hill's 6,000-vote victory over Republican James D. Martin.

Grenier said the irregularities included the discarding of ballots, but were not yet sufficient to prompt a demand for a recount.

Ohio Prisons Bulging Again

4,000-Adult Total Predicted for Year

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Those sentenced to the state's adult prisons this month and next probably will bring the total for the year to about 4,000, Correction Commissioner M. C. Koblenz says.

So far this year, Ohio's courts have committed 3,294 persons. But Koblenz thinks November - December will net another 700.

Results from fall grand jury indictments are being noticed now, he says, and there will be transfers from local jails before the holidays.

Ohio's all-time high for commitments was 4,207 in 1958. The second highest total 4,080, was last year, when there were 162 more at this point. Koblenz says that gap is closing, however.

In one aspect, Ohio seems to be running counter to a national trend toward crimes by younger persons, the commissioner points out. The commitment rate at Ohio Penitentiary in Columbus is running ahead of last year, 1,903 to 1,885.

Those committed to the penitentiary usually are older or repeat offenders, although judges may specifically direct that a convicted male offender 21 or older be sent there.

Opening of more and more facilities at the new Lebanon Correctional Institution has helped the State Division of Correction keep inmate population at the Marion, London and Mansfield institutions closer to recommended limits in recent months. And another cottage is being opened to increase capacity at the Marysville Women's Reformatory.

But the 125-year-old penitentiary is housing 4,450 prisoners in facilities intended for 2,500. Koblenz says relieving this by building a new reformatory at Grafton in Lorain County and making Mansfield a maximum security prison is his division's major goal.

'Honeymooner' Of TV Leaves Her Kitchen

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Audrey Meadows is back on television tonight, but—egad, Alice!—she is not in "The Honeymooner's" kitchen.

She is appearing on NBC at the same time her old hubby Ralph, the ever-popular Jackie Gleason, is holding forth on CBS.

This defection is also news because Alice—I mean Audrey—is playing a role on the "Sam Benedict" courtroom hour that is far removed from her old stand at "The Honeymooners."

Says she: "When MGM called to tell me about the story—I was to play a lady doctor in love with a younger man—I told them they didn't have to send me a script. I accepted right on the spot."

Miss Meadows filmed the role last summer. She was here again to tape a future Red Skelton Show. While waiting for her makeup, she sighed, "I thought I'd never get out of that kitchen."

She had understandably mixed feelings about Alice.

"Naturally I'm grateful for it," she said. "But it is a curious thing about show business: you work hard for a big success, then you get it and it can blight your career."

Fun and funds are the goals set by the Saltcreek PTO for their Family Fun Night to be held on Saturday evening at the school.

At 6:30 p. m. the fun center will be the gym and adjoining classrooms where games for both children and adults have been planned. Games of skill will include a basketball throw, dart throw, and others which were popular at the spring carnival with prizes for every player and special prizes for the more skillful. A fish pond has also been planned.

At 8 p. m. the scene will shift to the auditorium where a talent show and contest will be conducted. Twelve musical and dramatic acts auditioned on Monday evening for a place in the show.

At the conclusion of the talent show everyone will be invited to the gym to watch a basketball game between seventh grade boys and fathers of seventh graders. The committee is scouting the talent for this game to decide whether to handicap members of one or the other team with boxing gloves or to let them fight it out. Results

5 Big Races Are Listed as Still Undecided

4 Governor, Senator Tests Remain under Close Vote Cloud

WASHINGTON (AP)—The final outcome of election contests to choose four governors and one U.S. senator remained clouded today by the closeness of the vote and the possibility of ballot recounts.

It may be weeks before voters in Minnesota, Rhode Island, Maine and Massachusetts can be sure who their new governors are. In Minnesota and Rhode Island the winners have not been even unofficially determined yet and recounts are possible in all four states.

And in South Dakota and Alabama, Republicans said they may challenge the victories of Democrats in close Senate races, on grounds of voting irregularities.

Votes still trickling in from Tuesday's election produced a virtual dead heat in Minnesota's gubernatorial race between Republican incumbent Elmer L. Andersen and his Democratic challenger, Lt. Gov. Karl Rolvaag.

With two small precincts still out, Andersen's lead over Rolvaag was 171 votes—619,942 to 619,771. The final determination of the state's voting boards probably won't be made until Nov. 20, and then a recount request by the loser would be in order.

In Rhode Island, incumbent Democratic Gov. John A. Notte Jr.'s lead over Republican John A. Chaffee was only 47 votes, with the absentee ballots still uncounted and the canvass of voting machine tabulations still to be completed.

In Massachusetts, state police guarded ballots and voting machines as both candidates for governor took out petitions for recounts. The final unofficial tally showed Democrat Endicott Peabody a winner by 2,163 votes over Republican incumbent John A. Volpe, out of a total vote of 2.1 million.

The official count is not expected to be completed until next week.

Maine's losing Democratic candidate Maynard C. Dolloff has said he will seek a recount of the vote that put him 405 votes behind Republican Gov. John H. Reed. He has not yet made a formal request, however.

A strong possibility of a recount in South Dakota's Senate race between Democrat George McGovern and incumbent Republican Joe Bottum was raised today by Republican officials. McGovern scored a 201-vote victory over Bottum.

Bottum said the GOP felt there had been "substantial voting irregularities" in the election, including the registration of many missile base and airbase workers who had not met the state's one-year residence requirement.

Bottum said he planned to bring proper proceedings to contest the election and secure a vote recount.

In Alabama, John Grenier, state GOP chairman, said he has evidence of voting irregularities that may lead to a challenge of Sen. Lister Hill's 6,000-vote victory over Republican James D. Martin.

Grenier said the irregularities included the discarding of ballots, but were not yet sufficient to prompt a demand for a recount.

Ohio Prisons Bulging Again

4,000-Adult Total Predicted for Year

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Those sentenced to the state's adult prisons this month and next probably will bring the total for the year to about 4,000, Correction Commissioner M. C. Koblenz says.

So far this year, Ohio's courts have committed 3,294 persons. But Koblenz thinks November - December will net another 700.

Results from fall grand jury indictments are being noticed now, he says, and there will be transfers from local jails before the holidays.

Ohio's all-time high for commitments was 4,207 in 1958. The second highest total 4,080, was last year, when there were 162 more at this point. Koblenz says that gap is closing, however.

In one aspect, Ohio seems to be running counter to a national trend toward crimes by younger persons, the commissioner points out. The commitment rate at Ohio Penitentiary in Columbus is running ahead of last year, 1,903 to 1,885.

Those committed to the penitentiary usually are older or repeat offenders, although judges may specifically direct that a convicted male offender 21 or older be sent there.

Opening of more and more facilities at the new Lebanon Correctional Institution has helped the State Division of Correction keep inmate population at the Marion, London and Mansfield institutions closer to recommended limits in recent months. And another cottage is being opened to increase capacity at the Marysville Women's Reformatory.

But the 125-year-old penitentiary is housing 4,450 prisoners in facilities intended for 2,500. Koblenz says relieving this by building a new reformatory at Grafton in Lorain County and making Mansfield a maximum security prison is his division's major goal.

Mrs. Gerald Rose was released from Lancaster Hospital Friday after a major operation.

The Less Ames Class met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Melvin Mettler with a Halloween party with Miss Goldie Byers assisting. ## 'Honeymooner' Of TV Leaves Her Kitchen

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Audrey Meadows is back on television tonight, but—egad, Alice!—she is not in "The Honeymooners'" kitchen.

She is appearing on NBC at the same time her old hubby Ralph, the ever-popular Jackie Gleason, is holding forth on CBS.

This defection is also news because Alice—I mean Audrey is playing a role on the "Sam Benedict" courtroom hour that is far removed from her old stand at "The Honeymooners."

Says she: "When MGM called to tell me about the story—I was to play a lady doctor in love with a younger man—I told them they didn't have to send me a script. I accepted right on the spot."

Miss Meadows filmed the role last summer. She was here again to tape a future Red Skelton Show. While waiting for her makeup, she sighed, "I thought I'd never get out of that kitchen."

She had understandably mixed feelings about Alice.

"Naturally I'm grateful for it," she said. "But it is a curious thing about show business: you work hard for a big success, then you get it and it can blight your career."

Wool Sweaters Varied for All Occasions

By SUSAN BARDEN

Wool sweaters have made fashion first with coeds and careerists this fall. The new shapes, textures and patterns are bouncy, demure or sophisticated and are ready to play a multi-wardrobe role for every girl.

Textures made of all-American wool vary from the lofty and dimensional to the sleek and supple flat knits. Among them are the links 'n' links stitches, ottoman ribs, brushed and lacy mohairs, fluffy and bulky yarns and the thick and thin yarns.

Turtleneck pullovers are worn under bulky V-neck sweaters in tweedy, thick yarns to emphasize the slender, swanlike throat that is an important look this season.

Many girls wear the V-neck to parties with a wool skirt and without the turtleneck underneath, and accessorize with glitter jewelry.

Another neckline that has enjoyed a lot of popularity is the T-square, which is a widened version of the bateau that extends far out on the shoulders.

Dear Abby: Do Something About It!

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A woman who lives down the street from us is on relief, has two Princess telephones and pays $80 a month for her apartment. She keeps a bum she calls her "husband." This bum she keeps has a wife and three children, and you won't believe this but she pays his wife's alimony out of her welfare check so he won't get arrested for non-support. She has four children of her own who are the hungriest-looking kids on the block. She drives a new car and is having trouble making the payments. Respectable citizens like ourselves pay taxes to support trash like her. How does the welfare department let people like that get away with it is what I'd like to know?

TAXPAYER
DEAR TAXPAYER: If only half of what you say is true, your local welfare department would appreciate the information.
DEAR ABBY: This is for the person who said he didn't believe you really get some of the letters you print in your column. Just send him to me, Abby. I have been a clerk in a large store for many years and some of the conversations I hear are absolutely unbelievable! One customer was trying to select a sympathy card. I showed her one which read, "Thinking of you today." Then she said—"But she won't get the card until TOMORROW!"

DEAR M. E. T.: Some people are funniest when they are in dead earnest. I once heard from a young man who wrote, "Dear Abby: I joined the Navy to see the world. I've seen it...now how do I get out?" (signed San Diego)

DEAR ABBY: I am a junior in high school and am writing for others as well as myself. Do you see anything wrong with a boy and girl walking down the hall with his arm around her waist? (Not real tight.) If it is wrong, please tell me why. There has been a lot of comment about this at our school lately.

Forum Slated To Publicize Dem Party

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland attorney Robert E. Sweeney today announced the formation of "the American Democratic Forum" to inform Ohioans of the principles and philosophy of the Democratic party.

Sweeney was the Democratic nominee for Ohio attorney general in this week's election. He lost to William Saxbe in the Republican landslide.

"Instead of dwelling on the painful results of last Tuesday's election, we must consider the lesson it teaches us," Sweeney said. "It is clear that the Democratic party in Ohio, if it is to regain its high position, must forsake personality conflicts and animosities and dedicate itself to informing voters of the basic, intrinsic differences between the Republican and Democratic philosophies of government."

Sweeney said the forum would complement the regular Democratic organization in Ohio and work in harmony with it.

He envisions an organization based along the lines of the Cleveland City Club Forum. He said prominent Democrats would discuss party programs and problems at bi-monthly meetings.

Sweeney said chapters of the forum are being formed in Akron, Canton, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton, Lorain, New Philadelphia, Painesville, Toledo and Youngstown.

Judge Taft's Political Strategy Eyed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Political observers were wondering today whether Republican Chief Justice-elect Kingsley A. Taft will take over his new post on scheduled Jan. 1 or wait until the Republican governor is inaugurated.

At stake is the two-year interim appointment as Taft's successor as a judge of the high court. Taft's term as judge expires Jan. 1, 1967.

If Taft takes his oath as chief justice Jan. 1 as the law specifies, it will give outgoing Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle 13 days to appoint Taft's successor. After Jan. 14—Inauguration Day—Gov. elect James A. Rhodes would make the appointment.

The exact situation never has arisen before because Taft's successful effort to unseat Democratic Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt was the first time in the long history of the court that a sitting judge challenged a sitting chief justice. Weygandt has been Ohio's chief justice 30 years.

The judge appointed to the high court—whether by DiSalle or Rhodes—will serve until his successor is elected and qualified in the 1964 general election.

Hostelry for Plane Travelers Now Has Its Own 'Stewardess'

By JAMES FLOWERS
Central Press Association Staff Writer

NEW YORK — Just as the modern automobile brought luxury motels to the highways for traveling America, the advanced air age is bringing the last word in inns and hotels hard by the country's major airports.

One such is the recently opened 138-room Crossway Airport Inn, a stone's throw from New York's La Guardia Field. It is fully air-conditioned and features 12 two-room suites. Seven stories tall and built at a cost of $2 million, the inn also offers some unique services for the air traveler.

For example, a classic Rolls Royce limousine, complete with "flight" crew, picks up guests on arrival at the airport and drives them in style to the inn. This service is free. The "crew" consists of a "pilot" — a uniformed chauffeur — and an attractive stewardess.

The stewardess is 22-year-old Wendy Holden, a model and television actress in her spare time. Her duties: She greets arrivals, answers questions en route about the New York City area and the airports and helps with any problems the guests may have. On arrival at the inn, Wendy takes a photograph of them stepping out of the Rolls Royce for their family album.

"When I was a little girl," says Wendy, "I wanted to be an airline stewardess like boys want to be engineers or pilots. So this job will be fun. I like to meet people from all over the world and talk to them."

"I'm a pretty good mechanic, too. I can change a tire and figure out what's wrong with a car when it's not acting right. Once I helped my father build a five-room house."

Wendy worked her way through San Fernando State College in Los Angeles, acting on television and motion pictures, was a carhop on weekends and did secretarial work nights. She took a B. A. degree in theater arts and graduated with a B-plus scholastic average.

Pretty enough for a beauty contest, dark-haired Wendy has won several. At college, she was homecoming queen and senior prom queen and won the graduation award for best actress. She is 5 feet 6 inches tall and 36-23-36 eye-ful.

Wendy's show business aim comes naturally. Her father is a former network production chief and her mother is a former light opera singer. The family recently moved back East from Hollywood and Wendy lives with her parents in nearby New Jersey.

An actress who can sing and dance a little, she would like someday to appear on Broadway in a musical comedy. But right now she is enjoying being a "stewardess," even though it means getting up at 6:30 a. m. in order to be on the job at La Guardia by 9.

Oh, yes, about Crossway's other extras: No tipping, except for food and drinks; Bibles for all religions; free ice; laundromat service; a swimming pool (ready in 1963); and if you have a little too much luggage for your wife to handle conveniently, the inn provides a lightweight handcart for do-it-yourself bellhopping.

The hotel welcomes children, and there is no charge for mop-pets under five years of age — accompanied by their parents, of course. They take in "mutts," too. In fact, there's a "Muttel" atop the inn equipped with beds, bones, brushes, bowls and baskets for the traveling Fidoes.

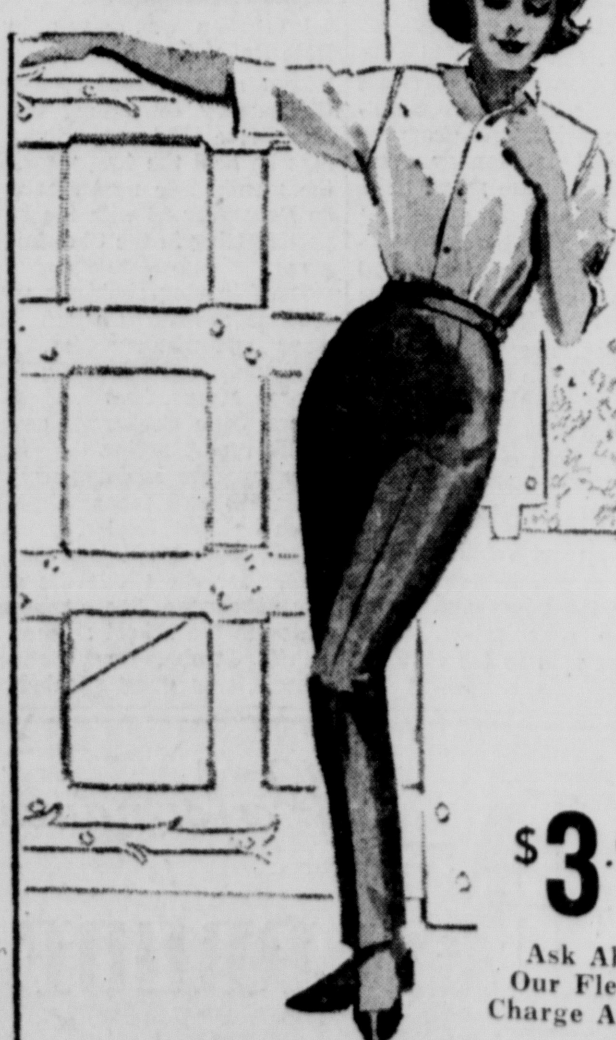

There is no charge for this pet-pampering, the management says, and the dogs are always welcome — provided they are accompanied by one or more adult guests (human)!

Wool Sweaters Varied for All Occasions

By SUSAN BARDEN

Wool sweaters have made fashion first with coeds and careerists this fall. The new shapes, textures and patterns are bouncy, demure or sophisticated and are ready to play a multi-wardrobe role for every girl.

Textures made of all-American wool vary from the lofty and dimensional to the sleek and supple flat knits. Among them are the links 'n' links stitches, ottoman ribs, brushed and lacy mohairs, fluffy and bulky yarns and the thick and thin yarns.

Turtleneck pullovers are worn under bulky V-neck sweaters in tweedy, thick yarns to emphasize the slender, swanlike throat that is an important look this season.

Many girls wear the V-neck to parties with a wool skirt and without the turtleneck sweater underneath, and accessorize with glitter jewelry.

Another neckline that has enjoyed a lot of popularity is the T-square, which is a widened version of the bateau that extends far out on the shoulders.

Dear Abby: Do Something About It!

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A woman who lives down the street from us is on relief, has two Princess telephones and pays $80 a month for her apartment. She keeps a bum she calls her "husband." This bum she keeps has a wife and three children, and you won't believe this but she pays his wife's alimony out of her welfare check so he won't get arrested for non-support. She has four children of her own who are the hungriest-looking kids on the block. She drives a new car and is having trouble making the payments. Respectable citizens like ourselves pay taxes to support trash like her. How does the welfare department let people like that get away with it is what I'd like to know?

TAXPAYER
DEAR TAXPAYER: If only half of what you say is true, your local welfare department would appreciate the information.

DEAR ABBY: This is for the person who said he didn't believe you really get some of the letters you print in your column. Just send him to me, Abby. I have been a clerk in a large store for many years and some of the conversations I hear are absolutely unbelievable! One customer was trying to select a sympathy card. I showed her one which read, "Thinking of you today." Then she said—"But she won't get the card until TOMORROW!"

M. E. T.
DEAR M. E. T.: Some people are funniest when they are in dead earnest. I once heard from a young man who wrote, "Dear Abby: I joined the Navy to see the world. I've seen it...now how do I get out?" (signed San Diego)

DEAR ABBY: I am a junior in high school and am writing for others as well as myself. Do you see anything wrong with a boy and girl walking down the hall with his arm around her waist? (Not real tight.) If it is wrong, please tell me why. There has been a lot of comment about this at our school lately.

FRUSTRATED
DEAR FRUSTRATED: While it may not be "wrong," it is in bad taste. Carress your books and embrace your studies.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "E": Grief knits two hearts in closer bonds than happiness ever can.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Forum Slated To Publicize Dem Party

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland attorney Robert E. Sweeney today announced the formation of "the American Democratic Forum" to inform Ohioans of the principles and philosophy of the Democratic party.

Sweeney was the Democratic nominee for Ohio attorney general in this week's election. He lost to William Saxbe in the Republican landslide.

"Instead of dwelling on the painful results of last Tuesday's election, we must consider the lesson it teaches us," Sweeney said. "It is clear that the Democratic party in Ohio, if it is to regain its high position, must forsake personality conflicts and animosities and dedicate itself to informing voters of the basic, intrinsic differences between the Republican and Democratic philosophies of government."

Sweeney said the forum would complement the regular Democratic organization in Ohio and work in harmony with it.

He envisions an organization based along the lines of the Cleveland City Club Forum. He said prominent Democrats would discuss party programs and problems at bi-monthly meetings.

Sweeney said chapters of the forum are being formed in Akron, Canton, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton, Lorain, New Philadelphia, Painesville, Toledo and Youngstown.

Judge Taft's Political Strategy Eyed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Political observers were wondering today whether Republican Chief Justice-elect Kingsley A. Taft will take over his new post on scheduled Jan. 1 or wait until the Republican governor is inaugurated.

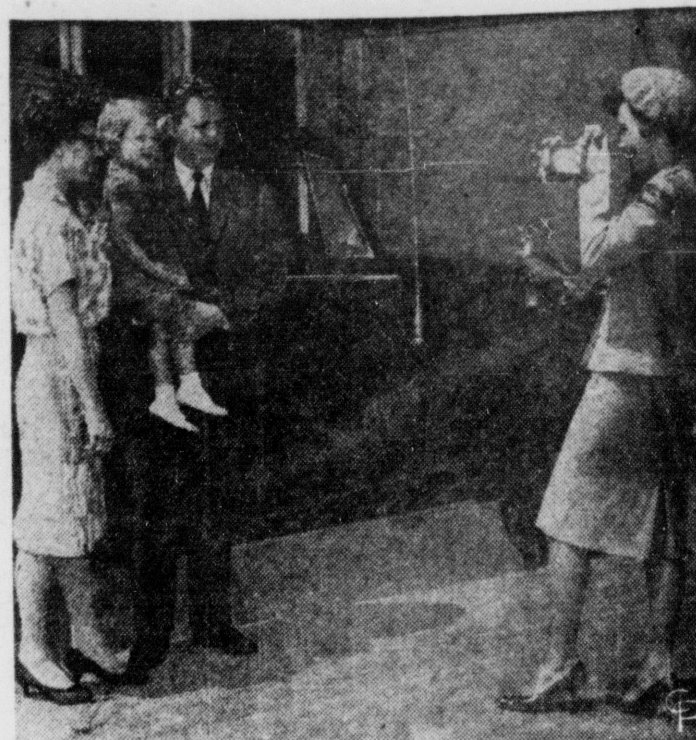

At stake is the two-year interim appointment as Taft's successor as a judge of the high court. Taft's term as judge expires Jan. 1, 1967.

If Taft takes his oath as chief justice Jan. 1 as the law specifies, it will give outgoing Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle 13 days to appoint Taft's successor. After Jan. 14—Inauguration Day—Gov.-elect James A. Rhodes would make the appointment.

The exact situation never has arisen before because Taft's successful effort to unseat Democratic Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt was the first time in the long history of the court that a sitting judge challenged a sitting chief justice. Weygandt has been Ohio's chief justice 30 years.

The judge appointed to the high court—whether by DiSalle or Rhodes—will serve until his successor is elected and qualified in the 1964 general election.

Hostelry for Plane Travelers Now Has Its Own 'Stewardess'

By JAMES FLOWERS
Central Press Association
Staff Writer

NEW YORK — Just as the modern automobile brought luxury motels to the highways for traveling America, the advanced air age is bringing the last word in inns and hotels hard by the country's major airports.

One such is the recently opened 138-room Crossway Airport Inn, a stone's throw from New York's La Guardia Field. It is fully air-conditioned and features 12 two-room suites. Seven stories tall and built at a cost of $2 million, the inn also offers some unique services for the air traveler.

For example, a classic Rolls Royce limousine, complete with "flight" crew, picks up guests on arrival at the airport and drives them in style to the inn. This service is free. The "crew" consists of a "pilot" — a uniformed chauffeur — and an attractive stewardess.

The stewardess is 22-year-old Wendy Holden, a model and television actress in her spare time. Her duties: She greets arrivals, answers questions en route about the New York City area and the airports and helps with any problems the guests may have. On arrival at the inn, Wendy takes a photograph of them stepping out of the Rolls Royce for their family album.

"When I was a little girl," says Wendy, "I wanted to be an airline stewardess like boys want to be engineers or pilots. So this job will be fun. I like to meet people from all over the world and talk to them."

"I'm a pretty good mechanic, too. I can change a tire and figure out what's wrong with a car when it's not acting right. Once I helped my father build a five-room house."

Wendy worked her way through San Fernando State College in Los Angeles, acting on television and motion pictures, was a carhop on weekends and did secretarial work nights. She took a B. A. degree in theater arts and graduated with a B-plus scholastic average.

Pretty enough for a beauty contest, dark-haired Wendy has won several. At college, she was homecoming queen and senior prom queen and won the graduation award for best actress. She is 5 feet 6 inches tall and 36-23-36 eye-ful.

Wendy's show business aim comes naturally. Her father is a former network production chief and her mother is a former light opera singer. The family recently moved back East from Hollywood and Wendy lives with her parents in nearby New Jersey.

An actress who can sing and dance a little, she would like someday to appear on Broadway in a musical comedy. But right now she is enjoying being a "stewardess," even though it means getting up at 6:30 a. m. in order to be on the job at La Guardia by 9.

Oh, yes, about Crossway's other extras: No tipping, except for food and drinks; Bibles for all religions; free ice; laundromat service; a swimming pool (ready in 1963); and if you have a little too much luggage for your wife to handle conveniently, the inn provides a lightweight handcart for do-it-yourself bellhopping.

The hotel welcomes children, and there is no charge for mop-pets under five years of age — accompanied by their parents, of course. They take in "mutts," too. In fact, there's a "Muttel" atop the inn equipped with beds, bones, brushes, bowls and baskets for the traveling Fidoes.

There is no charge for this pet pampering, the management says, and the dogs are always welcome — provided they are accompanied by one or more adult guests (human)!

Circleville Hails Its Victors

On the first play from scrimmage, Fyffe was rucked up for no gain and then Freddie Moore picked up a yard.

DADE THEN carried for his second touchdown — a 40 yard burst. The Falcon defenders lacked the speed to cope with the brilliant halfback once he saw daylight.

Taylor booted the conversion, giving Circleville a 15-0 lead with 5:34 remaining in the first quarter.

On the first play from scrimmage following Circleville's third kick-off to Franklin Heights, the Falcons quarterback fumbled and John Hatcher recovered on the 45-yard line of the visitors.

Fyffe carried three consecutive times for Circleville and picked up a first down.

On the next play Hannahs heaved a pass to Dade that picked up a first down on the 10.

Fyffe carried twice, going over from the eight for the third touchdown. On the conversion attempt, a run was called back because of a Tiger rule infraction and a perfect place kick by Ray Taylor was also disallowed because of an off-side penalty. The third attempt was no good.

THE FALCONS fumbled again after returning the kickoff from the 23 to the 35 yard line and Larry Adams recovered on the Falcons 24.

It took the Tigers just two minutes and 25 seconds to score again. This time Moore picked up the bulk of the yardage and the touchdown.

Darby Trojans Defeated by Kingston Unit

The Darby Trojans were defeated 66-58 at Kingston last night by a determined Redskins quintet.

The Trojans, trailing throughout the game pulled within one point early in the final period. A nine-point spurge by Kingston provided an edge the losers were never able to overcome.

The winners led 24-16 following the first quarter, 34-31 at halftime and 52-43 going into the last period.

The Trojan's Charlie Brown was high point man for the game. He hit 12 field goals, most of them in close, and five charity tosses for a 29 point total. Kermit Garmes with 11 was the only other Darby cager to hit double figures in the scoring column.

Harold Alberts paced the winning attack with 26 points. He hit ten field goals and six free throws. Roger Hammond tallied ten for the winners on four two point tosses and two buckets from the free throw lane.

The Pickaway County cagers were hurt with a cold third quarter. They collected only one offensive rebound during that period.

The Kingston reserve aggregate copped a 56-29 win to make it a perfect evening for the host school. Next game for the Trojans is at Buckskin Friday.

Circleville's final touchdown came the first play of the final period. Dade plunged over from the one.

The touchdown was set up when Larry Adams masterfully blocked a punt, picked up the pigskin and ran it to the six yard line before he was brought down from behind.

For the remainder of the game neither team was able to move the ball consistently.

Circleville, aided by the rain, put forth the best defensive effort of the year.

THE FALCON opponents were held to a net total offense of nine yards. They attempted two passes and completed none.

The Tigers gained 210 yards in the mud and 21 through the air. A rain-and-shower-soaked Carl Benhase praised the Tiger win after the game, calling it a team victory.

"The boys only fumbled twice. They handled the ball real well considering the conditions under which they played," he said.

John Adler, line coach, pointed that it would be difficult to grade the films of the game. The players jerseys were mudsoaked from the starting whistle until the final gun.

"The boys all played so well I think we will just name the whole team 'player of the week' " Benhase said in response to Adler's statement.

EXTRA POINTERS Big Cleson Thomas, senior defensive end and offensive tackle, missed the last game because of a sore leg. It was apparently a recurrence of an injury he received during the football season of two years ago.

The Big Tiger played some outstanding football for the Tigers this season.

Late in the first half Howard Fletcher received a leg injury and had to be helped off the field. It was the first time this year a Tiger has ever been helped from the field.

Although Fletcher did not play any more during the game, he wasn't injured so badly that he couldn't help toss anybody who was bold enough to venture close to the dressing room into the showers.

Announcer Bill Stout gave "nautical yardage" during the game. Somebody else in the press box noted that it looked more like a swimming meet than a football game.

Benhase called it the "Mud Bowl" and it was. One Franklin Heights player missed what started out to be a vicious block. It seemed he slid 20 yards in the mud.

Franklin Heights slid to one first down during the game.

Dade gained 87 yards in six carries. The Circleville "drill bit" as he has been termed by one sports-writer, set three modern Circleville football records:

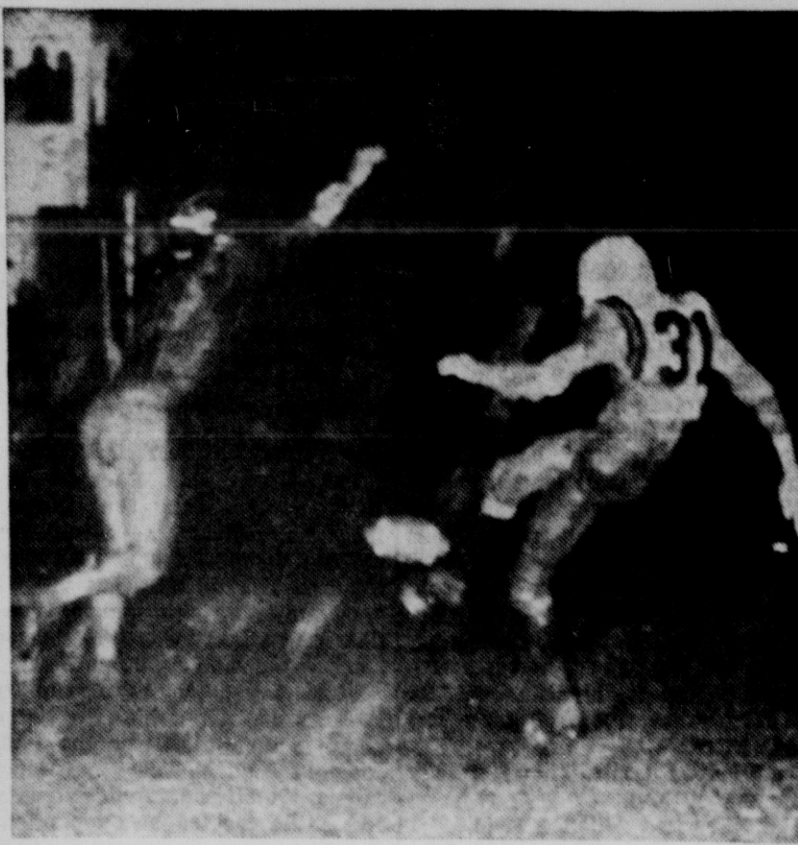

Best average per carry, 9.74 breaking the old record of 8.5 set by Archie Ward in 1959 based on 75 or more carries; most yards gained receiving, 379 breaking the 299 yard record held by Jim Starkey in 1949; longest interception returned for touchdown, 185 yards.

BLOCKED PUNT — Larry Adams charges in to block Charles Waters' punt in the third quarter of last night's game. Adams picked up the punt and raced 20 yards to the six before he was nailed from behind. Following the game the Tiger guard said he had the best average per carry for an interior lineman.

SOGGY SPECTATORS — Everybody, including the Circleville bench, was soaked at the game last night. Gary Betts (27) had not seen much action when this picture was taken as was evidenced by a lack of mud on his uniform. During the final three periods spectators couldn't even identify the players with a program.

Logan Elm Wins SVC Grid Crown With 16-0 Victory

The Logan Elm Braves splashed to a 16-0 win over Paint Valley to win the first Scioto Valley Conference football championship last night.

The Braves, playing on their own field turned in the best defensive effort of the year, according to head coach Keith Merrin. Merrin qualified the statement a little, saying it was "easy to play a good defensive game under the prevailing conditions — rain and mud."

Logan Elm, however, matched its defensive effort with an offensive burst that gained a total of 278 yards.

The SVC champs scored two touchdowns, the first by Jim Martindale and the second by Jeff Lutz, and a pair of two point conversions.

They also had two touchdowns nullified by penalties.

MERRIN said Danny Hix bolstered the defense with his best game of the year. Arnie Gabriel sparked the hard charging attack.

Martindale went 12 yards over left guard with 10 minutes and 30 seconds to go in the half for the initial score of the game. Gabriel scored the extra points.

The TD climaxed an 80-yard drive. Paint Valley had punted into the Braves end zone and the ball was put in play at the 20 yard line.

The game remained 8-0 until midway through the final period.

The Braves then fashioned a 90-yard drive with Jeff Lutz going over from less than a yard out for the touchdown. Martindale scored the extra points.

The key play in that drive was a 35-yard run by Gabriel on a third and seven situation.

THE LONG run not only gave the Braves a first down in a "must" situation, but placed the ball in scoring position on the Bearcat 20-yard stripe.

The Braves completely dominated the game.

WILLIAMSPORT'S Rick Fenstermaker garnered high scoring laurels in the tilt with 24 points on eight field goals and eight from the charity stripe. Rick Pond, had 16 for the losers, dunking five from the field and six from the free throw line. The Deers hit 23 of 61 attempts from the field.

Pond, Bruce Willis and Don Cook all fouled out for Williamsport during the final period. The Deers used a man to man press on defense, while the Huntington cagers utilized a two-three zone.

The Williamsport reserves dropped a 41-40 thriller. Tom Hammond a 5-foot 9-inch freshman paced the reserves with 14 points.

The Deers host Buckskin tonight.

ed the statistics. Paint Valley was held to 20 net yards and two first downs by the determined defense set up by Logan Elm. The Ross County team was forced to punt four times and lost the ball on three of the four bobbles they committed.

Logan Elm piled up 11 first downs while gaining its 278 yards. The Braves fumbled eight times, and lost the ball on four of the mistakes. The victors were penalized 25 yards.

The two big ball carriers for the winners were Gabriel with 139 yards and 22 carries and Martindale with 56 yards in 11 attempts.

Merrin said the offensive line played an excellent game. The backs ran inside the ends all night.

He singled out Jim Harrall as the best offensive lineman, noting that whenever they needed yardage in a possession situation, they picked it up behind the senior left guard.

"THE BOYS played championship football and I'm both proud and pleased with them," the Logan Elm mentor said following the game.

In singling out boys worthy of special mention for season play, the Logan Elm coach noted that three of the varsity players, Gabriel, Harrall and Bob Parker were straight "A" students. Parker is a senior end.

All three of these boys were both offensive and defensive starters.

Booster Club Heads To Meet on Tuesday

Circleville Booster Club officers and directors will meet 7:30 p. m. Tuesday at the high school.

The session will be held in one of the rooms on the main floor, according to President John Jenkins.

Jenkins said the agenda will include discussions on coming sports banquets and awards programs.

Ford Grid Contest Is Rescheduled

The punt, Pass and Kick contest sponsored by Kenny Hannan Ford which was scheduled for 2 p. m. today has been cancelled due to rain, it was announced by contest manager Dwight Radcliff.

Radcliff said competition will be held next Saturday at the same time, 2 p. m., on the Corwin St. gridiron.

Dave Hynes, Clemson's 231-pound tackle and captain, comes from Atlanta.

Jackson Falls To Buckskin In 84-50 Tilt

Despite 31 points by Edgar Martindale, the Wildcats of Jackson dropped their second game of the early cage season last night to invading Buckskin, 84-50.

Martindale's scoring performance was matched by Buckskin's Len Speakman who scorched the nets for an identical total. However, Speakman had the able assistance of Eddie Schiller and Bill Buck who hit for 16 each.

With Speakman hitting from all angles, Buckskin moved into a 23-12 first quarter lead and never relinquished it. The score was out of reach at the end of the third period, 67-41.

Martindale, a dead-eye lefthander, hit well from the outside and added a few layups to round out his total production. The only other Wildcat in double figures was Dwight Whaley with 10.

Jackson gained a split for the evening by taking a 35-31 edge in the reserve tilt.

JACKSON Bayes, 1-0-2; List, 2-1-5; Martindale 13-5-31; Maughmer 1-0-2; Whaley 5-0-10. Totals 22-6-50.

Brewer Holds Lead In Cajun Classic

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)—Gay Brewer Jr., the happy-go-lucky Kentuckian, clung to a 3-stroke lead today in the $17,500 Cajun Classic Golf Tourney despite an erratic second round.

Hot and cold performances have been one of Brewer's trademarks since he joined the play-for-pay ranks six years ago. He lived up to his billing Friday with shaky putting and a one-under-par 71 for a 36-hole total of 135.

Coupled with his record-equaling 64 in Thursday's opening round, however, it kept the 30-year-old Brewer—who plays out of Crystal River, Fla.—three strokes in front of John Barnum of Blytheville, Mich.

The Dodgers and Pirates were the most successful teams against the New York Mets. Both lost twice in 18 meetings.

Centralia Nails Southeastern For 2nd Win

Centralia made it two wins in two starts with a 78-66 victory over visiting Ross County rival Southeastern last night.

A scoring surge by Centralia's 5-8 Jack Conley, good for 24 points, was all the victors needed to down the visitors in a non-league contest.

However, the tilt was closer than the final score indicated. Southeastern moved to a 16-15 first quarter lead, dropped behind, 38-35, at intermission. Centralia fought a consistent struggle to remain ahead at the three-quarter mark, then turned on the steam in the final canto.

Backing up sure shooting of Conley was Tom Breeden with 20 points, along with Gary Miller and Glen Burchwell who hit for 16 each. Johnson and Jordan were the aces for Southeastern, keeping their squad in the tilt with 16 each.

EACH TEAM hit for 30 buckets, but Centralia's 18 foul tosses good for 72 per cent, made the difference.

Southeastern captured the reserve contest, 47-34.

CENTRALIA Conley 9-6-24; Breeden, 6-8-20; Payne 1-0-2; Miller 6-4-16; Burchwell 8-0-15. Totals 30-18-78.

DARRELL HATFIELD

TOUCHDOWN SKID — Thunderbolt Garold Dade is somewhere in this muddy mass of gridders. He had just scored his third touchdown. Robert Watts, (12) of Franklin Heights, had just entered the game. It was nearly impossible to read the players numbers after they had been in for a couple of plays in last night's "Mud Bowl."

BLOCKED PUNT — Larry Adams charges in to block Charles Waters' punt in the third quarter of last night's game. Adams picked up the punt and raced 20 yards to the six before he was nailed from behind. Following the game the Tiger guard said he had the best average per carry for an interior lineman.

SOGGY SPECTATORS — Everybody, including the Circleville bench, was soaked at the game last night. Gary Betts (27) had not seen much action when this picture was taken as was evidenced by a lack of mud on his uniform. During the final three periods spectators couldn't even identify the players with a program.

On the first play from scrimmage, Fyffe was rucked up for no gain and then Freddie Moore picked up a yard.

DADE THEN carried for his second touchdown — a 40 yard burst. The Falcon defenders lacked the speed to cope with the brilliant halfback once he saw daylight.

Taylor booted the conversion, giving Circleville a 15-0 lead with 5:34 remaining in the first quarter.

On the first play from scrimmage following Circleville's third kick-off to Franklin Heights, the Falcons quarterback fumbled and John Hatcher recovered on the 45-yard line of the visitors.

Fyffe carried three consecutive times for Circleville and picked up a first down.

On the next play Hannahs heaved a pass to Dade that picked up a first down on the 10.

Fyffe carried twice, going over from the eight for the third touchdown. On the conversion attempt, a run was called back because of a Tiger rule infraction and a perfect place kick by Ray Taylor was also disallowed because of an off-side penalty. The third attempt was no good.

THE FALCONS fumbled again after returning the kickoff from the 23 to the 35 yard line and Larry Adams recovered on the Falcons 24.

It took the Tigers just two minutes and 25 seconds to score again. This time Moore picked up the bulk of the yardage and the touchdown.

Darby Trojans Defeated by Kingston Unit

The Darby Trojans were defeated 66-58 at Kingston last night by a determined Redskins unit.

The Trojans, trailing throughout the game pulled within one point early in the final period. A nine-point splurge by Kingston provided an edge the losers were never able to overcome.

The winners led 24-16 following the first quarter, 34-31 at halftime and 52-43 going into the last period.

The Trojan's Charlie Brown was high point man for the game. He hit 12 field goals, most of them in close, and five charity tosses for a 29 point total. Kermit Games with 11 was the only other Darby cager to hit double figures in the scoring column.

Hornold Alberts paced the winning attack with 26 points. He hit ten field goals and six free throws. Roger Hammond tallied ten for the winners on four two point tosses and two buckets from the free throw lane.

The Pickaway County cagers were hurt with a cold third quarter. They collected only one offensive rebound during that period.

The Kingston reserve aggregate copped a 56-29 win to make it a perfect evening for the host school.

Next game for the Trojans is at Buckskin Friday.

Circleville's final touchdown came the first play of the final period. Dade plunged over from the one.

The touchdown was set up when Larry Adams masterfully blocked a punt, picked up the pigskin and ran it to the six yard line before he was brought down from behind.

For the remainder of the game neither team was able to move the ball consistently.

Circleville, aided by the rain, put forth the best defensive effort of the year.

THE FALCON opponents were held to a net total offense of nine yards. They attempted two passes and completed none.

The Tigers gained 210 yards in the mud and 21 through the air.

A rain-and-shower-soaked Carl Benhase praised the Tiger win after the game, calling it a team victory.

"The boys only fumbled twice. They handled the ball real well considering the conditions under which they played," he said.

John Adler, line coach, pointed out that it would be difficult to grade the films of the game. The players jerseys were mudsoaked from the starting whistle until the final gun.

"The boys all played so well I think we will just name the whole team 'player of the week' " Benhase said in response to Adler's statement.

EXTRA POINTERS
Big Cleson Thomas, senior defensive end and offensive tackle, missed the last game because of a sore leg. It was apparently a recurrence of an injury he received during the football season of two years ago.

The Big Tiger played some outstanding football for the Tigers this season.

Late in the first half Howard Fletcher received a leg injury and had to be helped off the field. It was the first time this year a Tiger has ever been helped from the field.

Although Fletcher did not play any more during the game, he wasn't injured so badly that he couldn't help toss anybody who was bold enough to venture close to the dressing room into the showers.

Announcer Bill Stout gave "nautical yardage" during the game.

Somebody else in the press box noted that it looked more like a swimming meet than a football game.

Benhase called it the "Mud Bowl" and it was. One Franklin Heights player missed what started out to be a vicious block. It seemed he slid 20 yards in the mud.

Franklin Heights slid to one first down during the game.

Dade gained 87 yards in six carries. The Circleville "drill bit" as he has been termed by one sports-writer, set three modern Circleville football records:

Best average per carry, 9.74 breaking the old record of 8.8 set by Archie Ward in 1959 based on 75 or more carries; most yards gained receiving, 379 breaking the 299 yard record held by Jim Starkey in 1949; longest interception returned for touchdown, 105 yards.

Quarterback Dave Hannahs also set three records. They are: most yardage gained passing, 923. The old record set by Bob Waple in 1960 was 336; best completion percentage, 53 percent; old record held by Bob Waple, 42 per cent in 1960, based on 50 or more throws.

Most touchdown passes thrown, eight, breaking old record set by Jerry Rooney in 1949 when he threw six.

Duke Fyffe also set a Tiger mark, carrying 128 times without a fumble. The bruising fullback broke his own record of 126 carries without a miscue set last year.

Benhase thanked the Circleville doctors for being on hand at each home game.

Gerald (Doc) Hanley treated the team to a steak supper at the Mecca restaurant prior to the game, probably the first of many victory suppers for the undefeated Bengals.

Last night was an expensive game for the Circleville athletic department. Several of the lights exploded due to the excessive rain.

The SVC champs scored two touchdowns, the first by Jim Martindale and the second by Jeff Lutz, and a pair of two point conversions.

They also had two touchdowns nullified by penalties.

MERRIN said Danny Hix bolstered the defense with his best game of the year, Arnie Gabriel sparked the hard charging attack. Martindale went 12 yards over left guard with 10 minutes and 30 seconds to go in the half for the initial score of the game. Gabriel scored the extra points.

The TD climaxed an 80-yard drive. Paint Valley had punted into the Braves end zone and the ball was put in play at the 20 yard line.

The game remained 8-0 until midway through the final period. The Braves then fashioned a 90-yard drive with Jeff Lutz going over from less than a yard out for the touchdown. Martindale scored the extra points.

The key play in that drive was a 35-yard run by Gabriel on a third and seven situation.

THE LONG run not only gave the Braves a first down in a "must" situation, but placed the ball in scoring position on the Bearcat 20-yard stripe.

The Braves completely dominated the game.

Logan Elm Wins SVC Grid Crown With 16-0 Victory

The Logan Elm Braves splashed to a 16-0 win over Paint Valley to win the first Scioto Valley Conference football championship last night.

The Braves, playing on their own field turned in the best defensive effort of the year, according to head coach Keith Merrin. Merrin qualified the statement a little, saying it was "easy to play a good defensive game under the prevailing conditions — rain and mud."

Logan Elm, however, matched its defensive effort with an offensive burst that gained a total of 278 yards.

The SVC champs scored two touchdowns, the first by Jim Martindale and the second by Jeff Lutz, and a pair of two point conversions.

They also had two touchdowns nullified by penalties.

MERRIN said Danny Hix bolstered the defense with his best game of the year, Arnie Gabriel sparked the hard charging attack. Martindale went 12 yards over left guard with 10 minutes and 30 seconds to go in the half for the initial score of the game. Gabriel scored the extra points.

Jackson Falls To Buckskin In 84-50 Tilt

Despite 31 points by Edgar Martindale, the Wildcats of Jackson dropped their second game of the early cage season last night to invading Buckskin, 84-50.

Martindale's scoring performance was matched by Buckskin's Len Speakman who scorched the nets for an identical total. However, Speakman had the able assistance of Eddie Schiller and Bill Buck who hit for 16 each.

With Speakman hitting from all angles, Buckskin moved into a 23-12 first quarter lead and never relinquished it. The score was out of reach at the end of the third period, 67-41.

Martindale, a dead-eye lefthander, hit well from the outside and added a few layups to round out his total production. The only other Wildcat in double figures was Dwight Whaley with 10.

Jackson gained a split for the evening by taking a 35-31 edge in the reserve tilt.

Brewer Holds Lead In Cajun Classic

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)—Gay Brewer Jr., the happy-go-lucky Kentuckian, clung to a 3-stroke lead today in the $17,500 Cajun Classic Golf Tourney despite an erratic second round.

Hot and cold performances have been one of Brewer's trademarks since he joined the play-for-pay ranks six years ago. He lived up to his billing Friday with shaky putting and a one-under-par 71 for a 36-hole total of 135.

Coupled with his record-equaling 64 in Thursday's opening round, however, it kept the 30-year-old Brewer—who plays out of Crystal River, Fla.—three strokes in front of John Barnum of Blytheville, Mich.

The Dodgers and Pirates were the most successful teams against the New York Mets. Both lost twice in 18 meetings.

Toledo '11' Inches Nearer Grid Crown

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Toledo Central Catholic, with an assist from Alliance, inched nearer a possible state high school football championship Friday night, defeating Toledo Maconber 32-6.

While the Irish, ranked No. 1 in the Associated Press poll of Ohio high school football teams, posted their ninth straight victory, the No. 2 team in the state, Niles McKinley, suffered its first mark on a 37-game unbeaten string since a 1960 tie with Farrell, Pa. The Red Dragons, defending AP state champions, had to come from behind to tie Alliance 12-12.

Here's how the AP poll's Top Ten fared:

1. Toledo Central beat Toledo Maconber 32-6.
2. Niles tied Alliance 12-12.
3. Lorain Adm. King lost to Sandusky 38-8.
4. Warren Harding beat Akron South 40-0.
5. Middletown beat Hamilton Garfield 36-0.
6. Toledo DeVilbiss beat Lima Senior 12-6.
7. Cincinnati-Roger Bacon plays Cincinnati St. Xavier Sunday.
8. Sandusky beat Lorain King 38-8.
9. Steubenville beat Steubenville Central Catholic 20-6.
10. Cleveland St. Ignatius plays Cleveland West tonight.

The Houston Colts stole 42 bases but were caught 38 times during their first National League season.

Giants Face Tough Battle With Dallas

Green Bay Expected
To Have Easier Time
Against Philadelphia

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Green Bay Packers and New York Giants are winging their way toward a second successive meeting for the National Football League title, but the Giants may run into the heaviest flak concentration of the season
Sunday in Dallas' Cotton Bowl.

While the defending champion Packers are given little to worry about in their visit with the Philadelphia Eagles, New York must gather its oft-punctured defenses and battle the league's top offensive team.

A victory by the Giants and one by the Washington Redskins, who play host to Cleveland, would put New York in a highly favorable position to get its fifth Eastern Conference title in the past seven years. Washington is second in the East, a half game behind the Giants, while Dallas and Cleveland are tied for third, 1 1/2 games back.

In other NFL weekend action, Detroit (6-2) is at San Francisco (2-5), Baltimore (4-4) plays at Los Angeles (1-7), Pittsburgh (4-4) visits St. Louis (2-5-1) and the Minnesota Vikings (2-6) are at Chicago (4-4).

Eddie LeBaron, always a thorn in the side of the Giants, splits the Cowboys' quarterbacking with young Don Meredith. LeBaron is ranked No. 1 in the NFL's passing statistics.

The Packers are itching to avenge their 17-13 loss to the Eagles in the 1960 title game on the same Franklin Field gridiron. The same cast returns for the defending champions, but the poor Eagles (1-6-1) are well below their 1960 form, particularly on defense—and they must cope with a devastating offensive machine led by fullback Jim Taylor.

The Boston Patriots and the Denver Broncos, the surprise teams of the league, match their explosive offenses at Denver Sunday in what could be a preview of the American Football League championship game.

It's a match of extremes and one that both division leaders need to preserve their title bids. The Patriots (5-2-1) are a half-game ahead of the two-time champion Houston Oilers in the East, while Denver (7-2) has two games remaining with the Dallas Texans, the nearest challenger in the Western Division.

While the leaders clash in the pressure cooker atmosphere of a "must" game, their closest rivals are heavily favored over less potent foes.

Houston, featuring George Blanda & Co., meets the winless Oakland Raiders and the Dallas Texans invade New York to play the erratic Titans. The Buffalo Bills are at San Diego to battle the Chargers.

Denver owns the AFL's top offense, directed by old pro Frank Tripucka and featuring the leading scorer (107 points) in versatile Gene Mingo.

Boston is last in the league in defense, yet the Patriots dealt Denver its worst loss of the campaign in an early season meeting at Boston, 41-16. To compensate for a sometimes porous defense, the Pats have generated a 29-best in the loop.

Balky Putter Gives Palmer Test Trouble

SAN ISIDRO, Argentina (AP)—Distressed Arnold Palmer, fresh from some overnight tinkering with a balky, uncertain putter, tried again to tame the slick greens of the San Isidro course today in the third round of the Canada Cup and International Trophy Golf Championship.

Palmer, the PGA's leading money winner this year, had two three-putts greens Friday and four bogeys on the back nine alone as he carded a two-over-par 33-39-72 over the gently rolling, 6,746 yard course.

"Arnold, all you have to do is hole two long ones and you're off and running," veteran Sam Snead advised his partner in the international tourney.

"Yes," Palmer agreed, "but when am I going to get those two long ones?"

Hunting Season To Open Thursday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (Am)—Next

Thursday starts the season many thousands of Ohioans look forward to eagerly—the time for tramping the fields and woods with their favorite shotgun seeking the elusive rabbit, pheasant or quail.

Prospects in general, say Division of Wildlife surveys, will be about the same as last year, game plentiful in some spots, more scarce in others.

The upland game season for the outdoor Ohioans begins at 9 a. m. Nov. 15. Hunters can legally take four rabbits, two ring-necked pheasant cocks or hens on special areas, six quail on state-owned or leased lands and two Hungarian partridges, in addition to game species already in season.

Hunting hours are 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Ringnecks, reported to be as plentiful in northern Ohio and about the same as last year elsewhere, can be taken on private land through Dec. 15 and on public lands through Jan. 31,

1963. Pheasant cocks or hens may be taken in the pheasant hunting south zone shown on papers given with each hunting license issued, and on four special hen areas;

Auburn Marsh and Hamden

Orchard, Geauga County; Spring

Valley, Greene and Warren Counties, and Pleasant Valley, Ross

County.

Hunting Season To Open Thursday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (Am)—Next Thursday starts the season many thousands of Ohioans look forward to eagerly — the time for tramping the fields and woods with their favorite shotgun seeking the elusive rabbit, pheasant or quail.

Prospects in general, say Division of Wildlife surveyors, will be about the same as last year, game plentiful in some spots, more scarce in others.

The upland game season for the outdoor Ohioans begins at 9 a.m. Nov. 15. Hunters can legally take four rabbits, two ring-necked pheasant cocks or hens on special areas, six quail on state-owned or leased lands and two Hungarian partridges, in addition to game species already in season.

Hunting hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Ringnecks, reported to be as plentiful in northern Ohio and about the same as last year elsewhere, can be taken on private land through Dec. 15 and on public lands through Jan. 31, 1963. Pheasant cocks or hens may be taken in the pheasant hunting south zone shown on papers given with each hunting license issued, and on four special hen areas; Auburn Marsh and Hamden Orchard, Geauga County; Spring Valley, Greene and Warren County, and Pleasant Valley, Ross County.

Hungarian partridges have the same season and bag limit as pheasant. In all cases, the possession limit is double the daily limit after the first day.

Cottontail rabbits, the No. 1 source of hunting thrills in Ohio, may be taken through Jan. 31. The rabbit population is estimated to be about the same as last year — or perhaps down slightly.

The quail season, ending at 5 p.m. Dec. 15, can be extended through Jan. 14 provided the hunter go on seven wildlife areas: Delaware Reservoir, Delaware County; Cooper Hollow, Jackson; Indian Creek, Brown; Rush Run, Preble; Spring Valley, Greene and Warren; Tranquility, Adams, and Wolf Creek, Morgan. About the same number of quail as last year are predicted for Ohio hunters.

For the trappers, Nov. 15 also will be their first day of the season. Hunting and trapping for all furbearers, except beaver, opens at 9 a.m. on that date.

Raccoon and opossum season closes at midnight Feb. 15. The muskrat and mink season runs to midnight Feb. 28. Only bag limit is four raccoons per day per hunter. The muskrat and mink season runs to midnight Feb. 28.

Both Great, Humble Gather For Tribute to Mrs. FDR

HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP)—The great and the humble gathered today at this Hudson River Valley community to pay their final respects to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The mourners represent the same cross-section of the world that had made the sad journey 17 years ago to attend the funeral of her husband—the 32nd President of the United States.

President Kennedy and his wife, Jacqueline, head the list of those scheduled to attend the service in St. James Episcopal Church.

The Rev. Gordon L. Kidd will conduct the services.

Mrs. Roosevelt will rest beside her husband in the family burial plot in the rose garden of the Roosevelt estate where she spent much of her time between a busy schedule over many years.

The former First Lady's family directed that the service and burial be attended only by those invited. This list included former presidents, heads of world organizations, cabinet members, civic and church leaders, educators and entertainers.

Mrs. Roosevelt died at 78

Wednesday in her New York City residence a short while after she had been discharged from a hospital suffering from anemia, complicated by tuberculosis.

Former President Harry S. Truman was one of the first to accept an invitation to attend, as did former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

On her death, tributes came from queens, presidents and prime ministers, organizations of all faiths and leaders of the down-trodden for whose causes she battled.

From behind the Iron Curtain Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev expressed sorrow at her passing. It was at Val-Kill, her cottage on the estate, that Mrs. Roosevelt entertained Khrushchev and his wife at a luncheon in 1960.

Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, eulogized her in a special tribute at the U.N. Friday.

He summed up her life in repeating what he had said shortly after learning of her death: "She would rather light candles than curse the darkness. And her glow warmed the world."

Gitmo Naval Base Is Turned Into Fearsome Stronghold

By BEM PRICE
GUANTANAMO BAY, Cuba (AP)—In just three weeks the U.S. naval base in eastern Cuba has been transformed into a fearsome stronghold.

The changes wrought by the Cuban crisis are startling.

The base is bristling with combat-ready Marines brought here within five hours after they received orders at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Prior to the naval quarantine President Kennedy announced Oct. 22, this base was a relatively cheerful place. Sailors' wives children attended school here.

The families were whisked out on short notice. Now bicycles lean forlornly against deserted porches and the gardens stand neglected.

Marines have dug in at outposts ringing the fenced base. All approaches are guarded by sandbagged checkpoints. The Marines carry new M14 rifles and light machine guns.

Tents dot the lush golf course and cactus-covered hillsides. Newsrooms were allowed on the base Friday for the first time since the quarantine went into effect against Cuba.

Literary scores of concrete-block pillboxes with interlocking fields of fire have appeared.

Some still are unfinished. Those completed are little fortresses in themselves, banked with earth and topped with sandbags and steel plate.

Rear Adm. Edward J. O'Donnell, the base commander, said there were no signs of a Cuban military buildup around Guantanamo, although an estimated 7,000 to 10,000 Cuban soldiers and militiamen remain on duty around the base.

The 3,000 Cuban civilians who still work here dashed toward the main gate. Once they ambled and laughed.

They race now, a guard explained, because they fear being detained by Cuban intelligence officers who have established a checkpoint 400 yards from the gate.

If one worker is detained for questioning, all others must wait until the interrogators are through with him.

2 Men Killed In 4-Auto Collision

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Two Michigan men were killed and three others injured in a four-car collision Friday night on the Toledo-Detroit Expressway just south of the Ottawa River Road interchange.

Police said the collision was caused by an auto going south in the northbound lane of the superhighway.

The dead were Adam J. Anders, 42, of Flat Rock, and Dillon J. Jacobs, 27, of Grosse Pointe. Admitted to Riverside Hospital here were Air Force Sgt. Albert F. Jesse, 24; his father-in-law, Chester Herbert, 48, both of Wyandotte, and Robert F. Herzog, 31, of Detroit.

Police identified Jacobs as the wrong-way driver. They said his car collided head-on with cars driven by Anders and Herzog, traveling parallel. Jesse's car then crashed into the wreckage.

Jury Rules Cigarettes Cause Cancer

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—A jury has ruled that cigarette smoking can give you lung cancer but you can't legally blame the cigarette manufacturer.

A U.S. district court jury came to this conclusion Friday following a trial in which a carpenter tried to collect damages from Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Otto Pritchard, 64, of Pittsburgh said he smoked the company's Chesterfield cigarettes from the 1920s until 1953, got lung cancer and had his right lung removed.

The jury of eight women and four men ruled that cigarette smoking was "the cause or one of the causes" of Pritchard's lung cancer, but said Pritchard assumed the risk of injury when he started smoking.

The panel said Liggett & Myers did not "make any express warranties upon which the plaintiff relied and by which he was induced to purchase" the cigarettes.

Attorneys for both sides indicated they were at least partly satisfied with the verdict.

Pritchard had tried to collect $213,000 in damages.

Ohio Negro Is Honored
WASHINGTON (AP)—Homer L. Benson, a native of Hamilton, Ohio, was sworn in Friday by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy by a member of the Federal Board of Parole. Benson is a Negro.

Rest Are Due

Kennedy, informants added, plans to maintain a prolonged against any new sneak Soviet operation.

The U.S. Navy began Friday to intercept merchant ships hauling the Soviet rockets away from Cuba.

The missiles were loaded as deck cargo and photographs made public showed eight on one ship and six on each of two other vessels.

Newsmen aboard a Navy patrol plane Friday night saw an American destroyer sweep in beside the Soviet freighter Anosov, catch it in the glare of a powerful search light and by signals arrange to inspect it after daybreak today.

"We have arranged an inspection without boarding," the destroyer Barry reported by radio.

This will include a closeup view by daylight and photographs, the inspection pattern reported to have been followed Friday.

The Anosov appeared to be heavily loaded with military equipment, including what looked like eight missiles.

The Soviet government had agreed to let the ships be checked by the Navy so that the United States would know that missiles were going back across the Atlantic.

It was reported here that nine Soviet ships would be involved in a rocket retreat from Cuba and the Soviet government has informed Washington the operation would be finished by Monday night.

As the missile menace decreased, the Kennedy administration showed relatively more concern about the continued presence in Cuba of Soviet IL28 jet bombers, which are capable of delivering nuclear bombs on U.S. targets.

The impression here is that Castro would like to keep the planes. More than two dozen such bombers are understood to be on Cuban territory.

But Kennedy has labeled them as offensive, and Khrushchev agreed at the height of the Cuban crisis to remove all the offensive weapons to which Kennedy objected.

Officials said Kennedy does not intend to release Khrushchev from this commitment.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Rainfall was heavy over Ohio Friday night as a deep low pressure area moved northward through West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

Rainfall amounts were in excess of one inch by 1 a. m. in Columbus, Akron, Dayton and Zanesville. By 7 a. m. Marietta had a sum total of a little more than three inches.

Temperatures remained mostly in the 40s during the night, and little rise is expected today as winds will turn to the northwest, bringing in cooler air.

The low pressure system will continue moving northeastward, ending the rain in the western counties by afternoon and in the central counties by evening. Tonight and Sunday will be rather cloudy.

It will be windy today with northwest-to-west winds reaching 25-35 miles per hour. Gale warnings are displayed on Lake Erie, with winds expected up to 45 miles per hour.

Temperatures will drop to near freezing over much of the state by Sunday morning.

Rain Cancels Appearance of CHS Bandsmen

Continual rain cancelled out last night's football halftime performance by the Circleville High School Band.

The final appearance had been designated as a tribute to patriotic Americanism and special honors to the band seniors. However, a muddy gridiron limited the bandsmen to a brief sideline performance.

Set for their last appearance were 12 seniors. They are Elaine Goldschmidt, Nancy Harden, Paul Hill, Granville Jones, Beth Rickey, Diane Dick, Norma Easterday, Walter Ehmling, Roberta Good, Lola Lagore, Bill Clifton and Sharon Hosler.

All the departing bandsmen have been mainstays with this year's crack outfit.

Ted Kennedy Joins U.S. Payroll Early

WASHINGTON (AP)—Edward M. Kennedy, the President's youngest brother, already has jumped a few steps ahead of most other newcomers elected to the Senate.

Kennedy, the junior senator-elect from Massachusetts, and two colleagues went on the government payroll at 12:01 a. m. Wednesday. The other senators-elect won't draw pay until the new session of Congress in January.

Senate officials put Kennedy, Thomas J. McIntyre, D-N.H., and Milward Simpson, R-Wyo., on the payroll because they won seats that had been filled by appointed senators whose terms expired on election day.

The terms of regularly elected senators who were defeated or are retiring will not expire until the new session of Congress. Their successors will join the payroll then.

Both Great, Humble Gather For Tribute to Mrs. FDR

HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP)—The great and the humble gathered today at this Hudson River Valley community to pay their final respects to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The mourners represent the same cross-section of the world that had made the sad journey 17 years ago to attend the funeral of her husband—the 32nd President of the United States.

President Kennedy and his wife, Jacqueline, head the list of those scheduled to attend the service in St. James Episcopal Church.

The Rev. Gordon L. Kidd will conduct the services.

Mrs. Roosevelt will rest beside her husband in the family burial plot in the rose garden of the Roosevelt estate where she spent much of her time between a busy schedule over many years.

The former First Lady's family directed that the service and burial be attended only by those invited. This list included former presidents, heads of world organizations, cabinet members, civic and church leaders, educators and entertainers.

Mrs. Roosevelt died at 78

Wednesday in her New York City residence a short while after she had been discharged from a hospital suffering from anemia, complicated by tuberculosis.

Former President Harry S. Truman was one of the first to accept an invitation to attend, as did former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

On her death, tributes came from queens, presidents and prime ministers, organizations of all faiths and leaders of the down-trodden for whose causes she battled.

From behind the Iron Curtain Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev expressed sorrow at her passing. It was at Val-Kill, her cottage on the estate, that Mrs. Roosevelt entertained Khrushchev and his wife at a luncheon in 1960.

Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, eulogized her in a special tribute at the U.N. Friday.

He summed up her life in repeating what he had said shortly after learning of her death: "She would rather light candles than curse the darkness. And her glow warmed the world."

Gitmo Naval Base Is Turned Into Fearsome Stronghold

By BEM PRICE
GUANTANAMO BAY, Cuba (AP)—In just three weeks the U.S. naval base in eastern Cuba has been transformed into a fearsome stronghold.

The changes wrought by the Cuban crisis are startling.

The base is bristling with combat-ready Marines brought here within five hours after they received orders at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Prior to the naval quarantine President Kennedy announced Oct. 22, this base was a relatively cheerful place. Sailors' wives children attended school here.

The families were whisked out on short notice. Now bicycles lean forlornly against deserted porches and the gardens stand neglected.

Marines have dug in at outposts ringing the fenced base. All approaches are guarded by sandbagged checkpoints. The Marines carry new M14 rifles and light machine guns.

Tents dot the lush golf course and eucalypt-covered hillsides.

Newsmen were allowed on the base Friday for the first time since the quarantine went into effect against Cuba.

Literary scores of concrete-block pillboxes with interlocking fields of fire have appeared.

Some still are unfinished. Those completed are little fortresses in themselves, banked with earth and topped with sandbags and steel plate.

Rear Adm. Edward J. O'Donnell, the base commander, said there were no signs of a Cuban military buildup around Guantanamo, although an estimated 7,000 to 10,000 Cuban soldiers and militiamen remain on duty around the base.

The 3,000 Cuban civilians who still work here dashed toward the main gate. Once they ambled and laughed.

Tuesday race now, a guard explained, because they fear being detained by Cuban intelligence officers who have established a checkpoint 400 yards from the gate.

If one worker is detained for questioning, all others must wait until the interrogators are through with him.

Jury Rules Cigarettes Cause Cancer

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—A jury has ruled that cigarette smoking can give you lung cancer but you can't legally blame the cigarette manufacturer.

A U.S. district court jury came to this conclusion Friday following a trial in which a carpenter tried to collect damages from Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Otto Pritchard, 64, of Pittsburgh said he smoked the company's Chesterfield cigarettes from the 1920s until 1953, got lung cancer and had his right lung removed.

The jury of eight women and four men ruled that cigarette smoking was "the cause or one of the causes" of Pritchard's lung cancer, but said Pritchard assumed the risk of injury when he started smoking.

The panel said Liggett & Myers did not "make any express warranties upon which the plaintiff relied and by which he was induced to purchase" the cigarettes.

Attorneys for both sides indicated they were at least partly satisfied with the verdict.

Pritchard had tried to collect $213,000 in damages.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Rainfall was heavy over Ohio Friday night as a deep low pressure area moved northward through West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

Rainfall amounts were in excess of one inch by 1 a. m. in Columbus, Akron, Dayton and Zanesville. By 7 a. m. Marietta had a sum total of a little more than three inches.

Temperatures remained mostly in the 40s during the night, and little rise is expected today as winds will turn to the northwest, bringing in cooler air.

The low pressure system will continue moving northeastward, ending the rain in the western counties by afternoon and in the central counties by evening.

Tonight and Sunday will be rather cloudy.

It will be windy today with northwest-to-west winds reaching 25-35 miles per hour. Gale warnings are displayed on Lake Erie, with winds expected up to 45 miles per hour.

Temperatures will drop to near freezing over much of the state by Sunday morning.

Rest Are Due

Knedy, informants added, plans to maintain a prolonged against any new sneak Soviet operation.

The U.S. Navy began Friday to intercept merchant ships hauling the Soviet rockets away from Cuba.

The missiles were loaded as deck cargo and photographs made public showed eight on one ship and six on each of two other vessels.

Newsman aboard a Navy patrol plane Friday night saw an American destroyer sweep in beside the Soviet freighter Anosov, catch it in the glare of a powerful search light and by signals arrange to inspect it after daybreak today.

"We have arranged an inspection without boarding," the destroyer Barry reported by radio.

This will include a closeup view by daylight and photographs, the inspection pattern reported to have been followed Friday.

The Anosov appeared to be heavily loaded with military equipment, including what looked like eight missiles.

The Soviet government had agreed to let the ships be checked by the Navy so that the United States would know that missiles were going back across the Atlantic.

It was reported here that nine Soviet ships would be involved in a rocket retreat from Cuba and the Soviet government has informed Washington the operation would be finished by Monday night.

As the missile menace decreased, the Kennedy administration showed relatively more concern about the continued presence in Cuba of Soviet IL28 jet bombers, which are capable of delivering nuclear bombs on U.S. targets.

The impression here is that Castro would like to keep the planes. More than two dozen such bombers are understood to be on Cuban territory.

But Kennedy has labeled them as offensive, and Khrushchev agreed at the height of the Cuban crisis to remove all the offensive weapons to which Kennedy objected.

Officials said Kennedy does not intend to release Khrushchev from this commitment.

Rain Cancels Appearance of CHS Bandsmen

Continual rain cancelled out last night's football halftime performance by the Circleville High School Band.

The final appearance had been designated as a tribute to Patriotic Americanism and special honors to the band seniors. However, a muddy gridiron limited the bandsmen to a brief sideline performance.

Set for their last appearance were 12 seniors. They are Elaine Goldschmidt, Nancy Harden, Paul Hill, Granville Jones, Beth Rickey, Diane Dick, Norma Easterday, Walter Ehmling, Roberta Good, Lola Lagore, Bill Clifton and Sharon Hosler.

All the departing bandsmen have been mainstays with this year's crack outfit.
